President Says Kosygin's Hard Line Same As Parley

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House said today Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin's hard line at a United Nations news conference ran about the same as in his two days of private summit talks with President Johnson.

Press Secretary George Christian told newsmen that Johnson watched the televised showing of Kosygin's meeting with reporters last night and "generally, his (Kosygin's) comments were similar to his expressions in the private conversations."

Christian's report came shortly after Kosygin left New York by plane enroute home by way of Cuba where he is expected to confer with Fidel Castro in Havana.

Christian was asked at the White House if there had been any change in the atmosphere of yesterday's summit session compared to the first Johnson-Kosygin get-together Friday at Glassboro, N.J.

"I don't know of any marked difference in the discussions over the two days," Christian replied.

As for any possible future meetings of the two, Christian remarked only that they "agreed that there should be continuation of direct contacts." Christian then added there were many ways of doing this.

In an related development, the White House announced that Johnson would confer at the White House late this afternoon with another Communist bloc leader, Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer.

Maurer differed with the Soviet stand at the U.N. General Assembly last Friday when he urged immediate negotiations between Israel and the Arabs without prior withdrawal of Israeli troops from land they occupied in the quick war.

There were clear signs the Soviet Union and the United States still were as far apart as ever on Vietnam and the Middle East but as Johnson put it, the talks made the world "a little less dangerous."

The Chief Executive gave his cautiously hopeful assessment of the two-day summit last night shortly after he and Soviet

Talks With Johnson Labeled World Plot

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Albania, the U.N. voice of Red China, charged today that the Soviet Union called the emergency session of the General Assembly to hide its "treachery" against the Arabs and as a plot to negotiate with President Johnson "at the expense of the peoples of the world."

The attack was delivered as Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin already was headed back to Moscow by way of Havana. Albanian Foreign Minister Nesti Nasi told 122-nation assembly the Kosygin government had stabbed the Arab countries in the back.

He declared the "progressive peoples" of the world were "profoundly indignant" at the "friendly meetings" of Kosygin and Johnson. He called the Soviet position on the Middle East "hypocritical" and added that Soviet aid to the Arabs "is a vast fraud."

"Down with the Kosygin-Johnson plot," he said. The Russians, he added, not only failed to come to the aid of the Arabs "but they reached an understanding with the United States to coordinate their actions both inside and outside the United Nations."

To the Soviet "revisionists" he said: "We repulse your friendship.

"We are eternally faithful friends of our Soviet brothers. The Soviet people will punish you implacably and irretrievably."

Nasi asserted that the U.S. resolution, calling for a ngotiated settlement of the Middle East problem, was entirely unacceptable.

He also assailed the Soviet resolution, condemning Israel and demanding an Israeli troop withdrawal, as a plot to mislead public opinion.

Nasi submitted a resolution charging that Israel had committed a "premeditated and long-prepared" act of armed aggression with the direct assistance of the United States and

Allied Strike Kills 156 Reds On Viet Coast

SAIGON (UPI)—Allied troops today reported killing 156 Communists in anti-guerrilla drives along the South Vietnamese coast.

In a lightning strike led by armored personnel carriers, crack government paratrooper units caught and killed 105 Viet Cong on the outskirts of the ancient imperial city of Hue 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

The victories followed one of the bloodiest American incidents of the war—the Communist destruction of two U.S. Army 173rd Airborne brigade platoons caught in a river of machinegun fire and "Banzai" attacks near the Cambodian border in the central highlands.

U.S. spokesmen reported 80 paratroopers killed and 34 wounded in the ridgeline fight Thursday. They said 75 of the dead came from the two lost platoons. But the Americans went down fighting. At Saigon, U.S. High Command spokesmen said 106 Communists were killed.

At the scene, American officers and men estimated Alpha Company killed more than 475 of the 800 North Vietnamese elite troops who overran the two platoons.

The paratroopers waited for reinforcements to search out the North Vietnamese for another battle. The Communists executed the wounded of the two platoons with pistol shots in the head, according to five

Kosygin Grateful For Hospitality During U.S. Stay; Flies To Havana

NEW YORK (UPI)—Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin departed for Havana and an expected conference with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro today after a hectic 10-day visit to the United States in which he refused to budge from his hardline policies on the Mideast and Vietnam.

Kosygin took off from Kennedy International Airport in a Soviet Ilyushin 18 turboprop shortly after noon for the four-hour and 20-minute flight to Havana.

Outside the Soviet mission and again at the airport, Kosygin held friendly chats with newsmen and confirmed that he was heading for Cuba.

The Soviet leader thanked newsmen for their "objective reporting" of his visit. "This is au revoir and farewell," he said through his interpreter. "We will be seeing you again."

Asked if he planned to fly to Havana, the premier replied, "Da." and asked, "How do you know?" newsmen replied they had had "reports" of his plans.

Arriving at the airport shortly before 11:30 a. m., Kosygin was given two bouquets of red roses by wives of Soviet U. N. delegates, then spent 25 minutes talking amiably with newsmen. This was considered an unprecedented departure from form for the usually reserved premier.

But Kosygin displayed no relaxation from the rigid diplomatic stand he maintained both at the United Nations and in 10 hours of summit talks with President Johnson.

The Soviet leader said he hoped the U. N. General Assembly would take "an objective stand on the Middle East debate to condemn and censor the aggressor." Kosygin has consistently labeled Israel the guilty party in the recent Arab-Israeli war.

Asked at his impromptu airport news conference whether he planned a visit to French President Charles de Gaulle on his way home, Kosygin said, "We haven't decided that."

Then, returning to his informal bantering, told newsmen: "You will know ahead of us. We can't hide anything from yu."

The Soviet leaer expressed "heartfelt gratitude for the hospitality I have been accorded" by President Johnson, Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey and the citizens of New York and New Jersey.

PHOTOGENIC LYN

A glossy 8-by-10 black-and-white photograph of Patrick Lyndon Nugent wrapped in a white blanket and held by an unidentified nurse was shown around at Seton Hospital this morning.

The picture was taken by Bob Knudsen, a White House staff photographer, last Friday at 6 p.m., when "Lyn" Nugent was nearly three days old.

The Nugents said their boy is photogenic and did not cry during the picture-taking. However, he did yawn, they said.

Knudsen said he had three separate photo sessions with Luci's baby before the picture was released. Neither Luci nor Pat was present at the picture-taking in a room adjoining Luci's room.

Some pictures were in color, he said.

Luci and Pat personally picked the first picture to be released.

Other pictures were taken of the baby and President Johnson when they first met Saturday. But those photographs were for family history and not released publicly.

Luci had a nurse ready today at her fashionable new home which she and Pat bought recently in a fashionable neighborhood of the Texas capital city.

The nurse is Swiss-born Mary Gfeller of Washington who took care of Luci 20 years ago when she was a baby.

Lyn was born June 21 without a hitch. Doctors described him as a perfectly normal healthy baby. Luci has been making excellent strides in her convalescence.

New Analysis Helps Verify Oswald Shots

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A member of the Warren Commission said today a new analysis of photographs "helps to verify" the panel's finding that Lee Harvey Oswald assassinated President Kennedy.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford, a member of the Presidential commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, told UPI he was "very much impressed with this new analysis." A new look at the film of the assassination taken by amateur photographer Abraham Zapruder tends to reaffirm the Warren Commission's "single-bullet" theory that the first bullet which hit Kennedy also seriously wounded Texas Gov. John Connally.

The Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS), in the first of four-hour long broadcasts on the controversy over the assassination, presented an analysis of the Zapruder film last night.

Basically, the scientific laboratory analysis conducted by CBS suggests that blurs in Zapruder's film were caused by his startled reaction to the sound of gunfire. The analysis showed that three blurred frames on the film were apparently caused by a subtle

Aide To Garrison Resigns, Asks Case On Shaw Dropped

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — William H. Gurvich quit today as chief investigator for Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison and said Garrison's case against Clay L. Shaw should be dropped.

Garrison has charged Shaw, wealthy retired New Orleans businessman, with conspiracy to murder President John F. Kennedy.

Gurvich went to the district attorney's office and tried to see Garrison. He was physically barred by Louis A. Ivon, an investigator.

Gurvich told the New York Times Sunday he has "grave misgivings" about Garrison's inquiry into Kennedy's assassination. He said he would visit Garrison on his return from New York and urge the district attorney to review the probe in a new light.

Syria Executes Army Plotters

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Syrian firing squads today executed two army majors who confessed to plotting the overthrow of the government with support from the United States, Radio Damascus announced.

The majors were identified as Selim Hatoum and Badr Jumaa.

The two were reported to have said in their confessions that the United States, Britain and West Germany knew of their attempt to overthrow the government last year.

Hatoum and Jumaa said they returned to Syria from hiding out in Jordan to help fight the Israelis in the recent six-day war. But they were arrested by the Soviet-backed government of Premier Dr. Youssef Zayyen.

Anglican Bishop Ordered Deported

JOHANNESBURG (UPI) — Rt. Rev. Edward Crowther, an American-born Anglican bishop who called racial separation "a wicked and evil system," said last night he has been ordered out of South Africa by Friday.

Bishop Crowther, 38, a former Episcopal chaplain at UCLA, said in a tense sermon at St. Cyprian's Anglican Cathedral in the diamond mining city of Kimberley that he had no idea why he was being deported.

Consumer Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House subcommittee, convinced the federal government is sitting on a wealth of information that would be a boon to consumers, is pressing to make the data public.

Chairman Benjamin Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said his special to know why the federal government can't share with the U.S. taxpayer the information it has gathered while testing products and amassing statistics. As the world's largest consumer and history's greatest collector of facts, the federal government is in the unique position of knowing more about the marketplace than anyone else.

Killer Storms

LONDON (AP) — Tornadoes and violent thunderstorms roaring across northwestern Europe over the weekend killed at least 22 persons and injured nearly 200.

A torando that smashed parts of a half-dozen villages near Douai, France, left seven dead and about 110 injured. Six persons were killed and 17 injured when a tornado swept through parts of the Netherlands. Weathermen said it was the same tornado that struck the French villages.

Across the channel in Britain, five cave explorers drowned in an underground cave when water rushed in from a stream swollen by torrents of rain.

4 Mine Deaths

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — Land mines killed four Italian soldiers yesterday in the most serious terrorist incident yet in the Alto Adige—South Tyrol—region which German-speaking extremists want Italy to return to Austria.

A soldier on patrol was injured fatally when he stepped on an antipersonnel mine a few yards inside the border with Austria. A unit searching the area for mines touched off another explosion a few hours later which killed three soldiers.

Italy annexed the Alto Adige from Austria after World War I. For more than a decade it has been troubled by bombings of monuments, rail lines and power lines.

Copper Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor contracts in much of the copper industry expire Friday but if a strike should develop, there will be an extra supply of copper on hand.

Many of the labor unions involved have authorized strikes if negotiations do not produce satisfactory contracts.

Production was stepped up this year partly as a hedge against a possible strike and partly because of increased use.

HELEN KELLER
87 tomorrow

Keller Birthday

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — Helen Keller—who went on to world renown although she is deaf, blind and mute—celebrates her 87th birthday tomorrow.

There will be a birthday cake, visits from friends, and her brother, Philip Brooks Keller of Dallas, Tex., and his wife also will be on hand.

"The advancing years have taken their toll," said her companion, Winifred Corbally, "but she is up and about every day."

Miss Keller was born a normal child in Tuscumbia, Ala. She was stricken at 19 months with an illness that left her deaf, blind and mute.

But she went on to graduate cum laude from Radcliffe College, she wrote books, starred in a silent movie, toured the vaudeville circuit, and traveled throughout the world bringing encouragement to handicapped persons.

Czechs Tour

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Prime Minister Jozef Lenart of Czechoslovakia and three other Czech officials toured a poultry farm and lunched at a firehouse yesterday afternoon.

Lenart was accompanied by Foreign Minister Vaclav David; Dr. Karel Duda, ambassador to the United States, and Milan Klusak, ambassador to the United Nations.

They toured three farms under the auspices of the State Department and the Orange County Extension Service.

Lenart commented that if the nations of the world concentrated on the production of machinery and food, there would be no room for war machinery.

Continuing Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is continuing its economic aid to Middle Eastern nations which have maintained diplomatic relations with this country through the recent war. And U. S. food aid is continuing to other parts of the Mideast.

In announcing this, the State Department didn't mention the aid status of the Mideast countries which did break relations with the United States.

CIA Funding

OSAKA, Japan (UI)—The Japan Federation of Bar Associations yesterday announced it received $7,777 in aid from an American organization it said is financed by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Chairman Iwakichi Wajima of Osaka Bar Association said the money from the Asian Foundation was used to publish reports on bar association seminars. He said the aid was being cut off.

Deadline Is Near; Budget Talks Resume

Lawmakers Must Give Governor Bill By Friday

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The long process of putting together a program of services for California's 19 million residents neared completion today, with lawmakers confident of handing Gov. Ronald Reagan's 1967-68 budget by the midnight, Friday deadline.

No major obstacles appeared in the path of the $5 billion-plus budget as the Senate-Assembly conference committee resumed negotiations for a final compromise figure accetable to both houses and the governor.

The law says he must sign a budget bill for the fiscal year starting July 1 by midnight, June 30.

Once again, lawmakers took until the last week possible working on the measure. For the past two years, former Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown had to wait until the late-night hours of June 30 to sign the budget.

EXTRA TIME

It appeared Reagan would have somewhat more time.

The conference committee members talked of announcing their final decision by midweek, and if both houses went along with the compromise as is customary, the first-term Republican governor would have a day or two for a detailed look at changes made in his spending program by legislators.

However, still to be resolved was the fate of the $1 billion tax increase program asked by the governor to finance state spending for the coming fiscal year and avoid the need for new taxes to pay for the next budget to be debated in the 1968 election year.

DEMOS HOLDING

Senate Democrats say they will hold the bill in the Finance Committee until Reagan has signed the budget and they know exactly how much revenue must be raised to finance it. The governor's forces indicate that doesn't worry them, as long as it is understood by all that the legislature will move the tax bill along so it can take effect by Aug. 1. They had hoped for July 1, but Senate reluctance thwarted that plan.

Fiscal experts were not unduly concerned when asked what will happen if a budget is signed by the deadline, but the tax program to pay for it still is being debated.

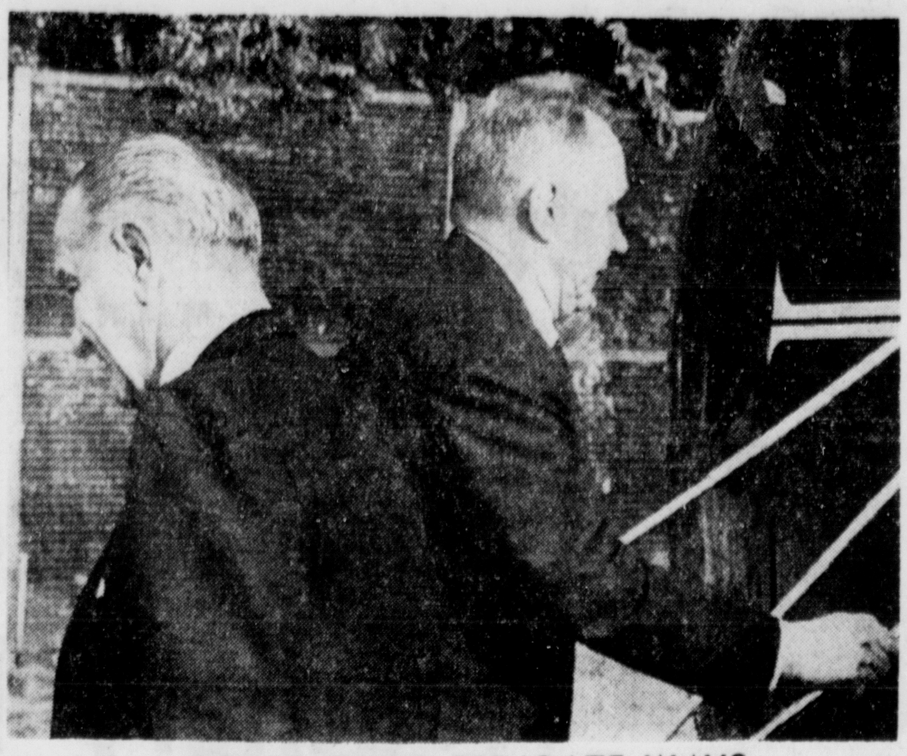
State government won't cease to function, they explained. It simply will have to operate for a while on a rate of income below what will eventually be needed, months from now. What counts is to make sure a revenue plan is enacted in the next month or so, they add.

CHAOS SEEN

However, the same sources predict a "disastrous chaos" would result if no budget were signed by the end of the month.

The state would have no money to pay its bills, they say. Thus, employees would not be paid — including legislators — food could not be bought for mental hospital patients, equipment purchases would stop, and so on.

The reason for this is that the state controller, who signs all the checks, could not do so if he knew there wasn't money available. He couldn't even sign his own paycheck.



GOING THEIR SEPARATE WAYS

Meredith Meets Fear In March

BATESVILLE, Miss. (UPI)—James Meredith has called his hike through the Mississippi farm country a "march against fear." Fear won the first round.

"Hey, son," Meredith called to an 8-year-old Negro boy at Sardis yesterday. "If you were 16, you could walk with me."

"Nah, not me," replied the boy. "I dont' want to risk it. There's people in the bushes around here and they'll kill you."

Meredith was wounded by a white sniper emerging from roadside bushes near Hernando, Miss., during a "freedom march" last year. He was beginning the third day of a resumption of that interrupted march today.

The slender Negro has marched 34 miles since he started Saturday morning at Hernando. He ended a 19-mile jaunt yesterday, his 34th birthday, with his arrival in Batesville to the tune of "nigger, nigger black as coal," sung by seven white teen-agers.

Bruce Mitchell, 17, wearing glass frames without lenses and plunking a guitar, led the group. The singing apparently was in jest, because Mitchell later asked for—and got—Meredith's autograph.

Accompanied by about a dozen marchers, including several whites, Meredith passed groups of silent white spectators in Batesville. About 25 cars, loaded with whites, were parked at an intersection. "Go home, who needs you?" was printed on the side of one car.

A woman motorist, Mrs. Lucy Hollinger, told newsmen, "in my opinion it will start a bloody war."

Meredith later drove back to Sardis to spend last night with friends.

Pope Begins Rites To Seat Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today held a "secret consistory" of old cardinals and began the solemn but streamlined ceremonies to install 27 new Roman Catholic Church princes including four Americans.

In a custom centuries old, the pontiff called the old cardinals for their approval of the newcomers.

There was a time when the "secret consistory" triggered angry words. But today as the Pope reads out each nomination, each cardinal replies with the Latin word "placet"—it pleases me.

The nominations include those of American Archbishops Patrick Louis O'Boyle of Washington, D.C., John P. Cody of Chicago and John Joseph Krol of Philadelphia. The fourth American was Msgr. Francis J. Brennan of Shenandoah, Pa., who headed the Vatican appeal court, the Sacred Rota.

When the 27 receive their red hats it will raise the Sacred College of Cardinals to an unprecedented number of 118.

Paul simplified the consistory rites. He sheared away such age-old pomp as "gentlemen in waiting" and "train carriers" for the cardinals.

He stripped the gold lining and tassels from the cardinals' robes. He added new religious ceremonies to make the consistory more meaningful spiritually and to give the public a better view of its significance.

He arranged that the climax of the ceremonies will be an outdoor Mass celebrated by the Pope and the new cardinals in St. Peter's Square Thursday before an expected crowd of hundreds of thousands.

Hundreds of Americans flew to Rome to witness the induction of the new church princes. Among them were Mayors Richard Daley of Chicago and James Tate of Philadelphia. Also on hand was Methodist Bishop Eugene Pierce Corson of Philadelphia in an ecumenical goodwill gesture.

After the "secret consistory" Vatican messengers were walking a few blocks from the stately consistorial hall to the Piux XII Auditorium to deliver "tickets of nomination" to the waiting new cardinals.

Wednesday in the Sistine Chapel comes the solemn investiture. Here, against the awesome backdrop of Michelangelo's "Last Judgment," each new prince receives his square red hat of office.

The first state park in the United States designed and operated primarily for the handicapped is Harkness Memorial State Park, Waterford, Conn., according to the Goodyear Guide.

Librarian's View Of Pornography

SAN FRACISCO (UPI)—Big public libraries should begin collecting pornography "for historical purposes," according to the chairman of the Intellectual Freedom Committee of the American Library Association (ALA).

"Pornography must be important or it "would not be so prevalent," said Ervin Gaines yesterday during a meeting in advance of the association's annual weeklong convention which opened today.

Gaines, also director of the Minneapolis Public Library, said some libraries had better start collecting pornograhy "so it will be available to future scholars who will understand its meaning."

He described pornography as a "persistent art form which we know was found on the walls of a house of prostitution in Pompei 2,000 years ago and crops up daily in our lives in the form of graffiti and dirty jokes."

Gaines noted that his proposal concerning the acquisition of pornography by libraries was his own and not one which emerged from two days of discussions on "Intellectual Freedom and the Teen-ager."

In a keynote speech yesterday night a government economist said that if libraries and other employers are to meet future manpower needs, they must begin now "to hire in greater numbers the younger workers and accelerate their development, hire the older workers—and like it—as well as other members of discriminated-against groups."

Seymour L. Wolfbein, special assistant to the sceretary for economic affairs in the U.S. Department of Labor, said that by 1975 there will be a decrease of one million workers in the prime working age group.

"The libarry administrator will join the rest of employing institutions in redesigning labor demand to fit labor supply and not the other way around," Wolfbein said.

Watts Riot Report Hits At Newsmen

LOS ANGLES (AP) — Two years' study of the 1965 Watts riots has resulted in a 46-page City Council report with one recommendation — that two-way radios be installed in ambulances.

The report, just completed by the council's Police, Fire and Civil Defense Committee, absolves the police department of any misconduct but laid part of the blame for the riots to cover age by newsmen.

State Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch called yesterday for all California news officials to work out guidelines on riot coverage with the state's law enforcement agencies.

The council's report said "No specific facts were presented to the committee to indicate any witness had personal knowledge of excessive force or discourtesy on the part of the Los Angeles Police Department."

RETURNED FROM ISRAEL—Mrs. Richard M. Harris displays a pass-over plate, symbolic of the Jewish Holiday, which she purchased in Israel a few weeks ago. She and her husband were vacationing there when the Gulf of Acaba blockade was imposed.

FIGHTING BACK TEARS

Vacation In Israel Wasn't Fun-Filled

By JAMES BREWER

A Sleepy Hollow woman fought back tears this past weekend as she tried to convey her deep-seated impressions of the Isreali people preparing for conflict with the Arab nations.

Mrs. Richard M. Harris returned with her husband to their home at 145 Van Tassel Court 10 days ago after spending May 12 to May 25 in Israel.

LAND PRECIOUS

"Vacations are usually fun-filled," she said, "but I'm afraid I spent most of the time there in tears--their land is so precious to them."

Mrs. Harris, who is a Jew, said, "even before the blockade of the Gulf of Acaba was imposed," she recalls, "the Arabs had mobilized all around us. I felt myself, like I was being strangled. And every Arab broadcast had the same message—'push the Jews into the sea.'

"We were one of the last groups of tourists to leave," she said. "The Israeli people were cut off and surrounded but their morale remained high and their courage was simply unbelievable."

HOW THEY REACTED

Mrs. Harris recalled how the Israeli men reacted to being called from their homes into war. "Every day someone we had met had to go. When one man saw the tears in my eyes he said to me, "Don't worry, we won't let you down.' "

Hands gesturing with every word, Mrs. Harris told of the part mothers played in the last days of peace. "The elementary school called the mothers asking them to bring lots of paper to cover the windows. The children had to be told that bombs could be dropped any day while they were in school."

"The Israeli people are constantly aware of the threat of war," she recalled. "When school vans take the children on field trips they are required to carry four rifles for security. And the children ride along singing as though nothing was wrong."

Mrs. Harris also discussed how she perceived the results of a 19-year border war. "Sabotage in factories is common," she said, "and a mine is always blowing up somewhere. The people are constantly having to repair something that was blown up during the night."

"I have never been so impressed in all my life as I was by seeing this beautiful country in its pioneer stage," she said. "I remember watching them plant a forest by drilling holes in a mountain of solid rock and then filling them with dirt so the trees would grow.

"We went to see a pioneer country and came back with so much more. It reminded me of what Americans must have felt when our country was young," Mrs. Harris said.

Supervisors May Adopt The Budget

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, after two weeks of deliberation, is scheduled to adopt the $28 million county budget for fiscal 1968 at its regular meeting tomorrow in the Civic Center.

Administrator Alan Bruce last week had tentatively scheduled adoption for a special meeting Thursday, but said Friday the budget should be ready for final action tomorrow afternoon.

The supervisors' meeting will begin at 9 a.m.

Also slated for afternoon action by the board is the controversial rezoning of Tamalpais Valley properties, which has been shuttled for months betwee the county planning commission and the supervisors for various actions. Designation of a high school site in the Tamalpais Valley Master Plan also is scheduled for consideration.

Other mattters up for discussion are: Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell's report of improperly paid overtime in the Community Mental Health Services department, scheduled for 9:30 a.m.; by-laws of the corporation which will run the fairgrounds at the Civic Center, set for 10:30 a.m., and a proposal for road reflectors, instead of street lights, on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at White's Hill.

At 1:30 p.m., the supervisors are scheduled to participate in groundbreaking ceremonies for reconstruction of the county airport at Novato, then return to the Civic Center for the afternoon session.

Convalescent Workers Approve Of Contract

Employees of Hillhaven Convalescent Hospital in San Rafael met Friday and approved details of a contract between the Hospital and Institutional Workers Union and Hillhaven, Inc., of Tacoma, Wash., governing all 15 hospitals in the group.

Floyd Clardy, business agent of Union Local 250 of San Francisco, said ratification was unanimous at the meeting, held, he said, despite the opposition of San Rafael hospital manager Helen Riggs "who fought to keep San Rafael out of the union."

San Rafael police were called to Hillhaven Thursday when Mrs. Riggs complained Clardy and another organizer, Joel Stephens, were abusive and "roamed through patients' rooms".

Clardy denied all the manager's charges Saturday and said the two organizers called at the hospital to post notice of Friday's meeting. He said Mrs. Briggs threw the notices in the waste paper basket.

He declined to say how many of the hospital's 15 employees were at the meeting approving the contract.

Now it has been ratified, however, Clardy said it would be "policed" by the union. An official would call at the hospital weekly to ensure conditions were "being lived up to."

The contract, retroactive to June 1, calls for a minimum five cent an hour salary hike for all grades, seven paid holidays a year, and new grievance and arbitration clauses.

movement of Zapruder's body. Two of the blurred frames occurred after frames showing Kennedy being hit by bullets — about the time the sound would reach the photographer and cause him to jump.

An initial blurred frame indicated that a first shot was fired at a spot earlier than had been determined by the Warren Commission.

According to the CBS study, the first shot was fired as Kennedy's car passed beneath a tree. Oswald had a brief target between tree branches. "We had discussed the possibility of Oswald firing the first shot through the tree, but we didn't think it likely," Ford said today.

Both Ford and CBS said this initial shot missed.

But with the first shot coming seconds earlier than previously believed, Ford said it would support Connally's views.

The Texas Governor has been one of the most influential critics of the single-bullet theory. Connally has argued that he heard the first shot and was struck by a second bullet. Most contend that the Commission's findings showed the first bullet hit Kennedy in the neck and then passed through to seriously wound Connally.

But the new analysis shows that Connally could legitimately have heard the first shot and still have been struck by the first bullet that hit Kennedy.

Other CBS-sponsored tests indicated that Oswald had seven to eight seconds to get off a third and fatal shot compared to 5.6 seconds estimated by the Commission. This additional time would further support the single-bullet theory.

It calls for withdrawal of all Israeli troops from occupied Arab territory and demands that Israel pay "full and immediate reparations for all the damage caused."

SUMMIT

Johnson returned to the White House to tell the nation on television and radio that, despite wide disagreement on a number of issues, the two nuclear superpowers had made "great progress in reducing misunderstanding and in reaffirming our common commitment to seek agreement."

A few minutes after Johnson spoke, Kosygin gave a far more restrained view of the talks during a televised news conference at the United Nations in New York. The discussions, he said, had been "useful."

On Vietnam, Johnson said the area of his agreement with Kosygin was defined by "the fact that the dangers and difficulties of any one area must never be allowed to become a cause of wider conflict."

But the Russian, acknowledging "profound differences" over the war, said the issue could be settled only if U.S. bombing of North Vietnam were halted and American troops withdrawn from South Vietnam.

On the Middle East, Johnson reported agreement in principle that "every state has a right to live"—a clear reference to Israel—"that there should be an end to the war in the Middle East, and that in the right circumstances there should be withdrawal of troops."

Kosygin condemned Israel as an aggressor and demanded again that its troops withdraw to their positions before the war erupted June 5 before any other matters are considered, including reduction of arms shipments to the Middle East.

The only area on which the two leaders seemed to have agreed was on what the President termed "the urgent need for prompt agreement" on a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

understanding and better relations" among nations.

In the U. N. debate on the Mideast, he said, not without humorous intent, "the gentlemen of the press will help through objective reporting on this matter because, if you don't, no one will read you."

Security was routine and almost relaxed at the airport compared to the tough precautions taken for the Premier's early morning arrival June 17.

Kosygin's visit to Havana was believed designed to show Communists that his arm-in-arm smiling with President Johnson at the Glassboro, N.J., summit was nothing but courtesy and his Middle East and Vietnam policies were unbent by 10 hours of Summit talks with President Johnson.

Peking already has called the 63-year-old Kosygin a "traitor" to Communism for the meetings in the college president's residence.

Larkspur Trims Budget By $6,000

Larkspur city councilmen chipped more than $6,000 out of a proposed $847,614 budget for fiscal 1968 at a special budget review session yesterday afternoon.

Councilmen eliminated $857 for rental of uniforms for street crews, a new item recommended by City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst.

RADIOS OUT

They also eliminated $5,400 designed to provide radios for two public works trucks and cars of the public works superintendent and foreman, building inspector and city manager.

There was some question about the wisdom of spending $5,000 for first phase of a sewer survey, but councilmen left it in the budget pending further study and review of a survey made in 1963.

Bathurst said a total survey would cost $14,000. "We have very deficient sewers in certain areas," he continued. It would be logical to survey the system to determine all deficiencies, Bathurst said.

BOND PROPOSAL

A bond issue may be required to finance needed improvements, Bathurst said, adding that the city is spending $10,000 a year for sewer line replacement and is "not catching up."

Councilman Neil R. Brixon commented, "I'd rather see the $14,000 go toward the cost of a line from College Park to beyond Hillview Gardens."

Councilmen said they would look at a survey made in 1963 to see what information could be obtained from it, before calling for another survey.

Under capital outlay, there is $90,000 earmarked for a force main and $10,000 for line replacement.

PAY REVIEWED

Councilmen briefly discussed Bathurst's recommendation for pay raises ranging from two-and-a-half to 10 per cent but took no action.

Brixon urged that any pay boosts be delayed until Jan. 1, 1968, to give the council "ample time" to consider them.

Councilmen approved a $26,132 library budget, up $5,887 from the current budget.

Mrs. Helen S. Wilson, librarian, noted that the library will be open longer, 48 hours, and that the city will have to offer $650 a month to attract a librarian.

The major item in capital outlay budges is $176,400 to acquire right of way for the widening of Magnolia Avenue.

Of this, the majority, $100,000, is for acquisition of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. right of way, south of Doherty Drive. The budget also provides for right-of-way to the north from Doherty Drive to Hillview Gardens. The city is slated to receive funds from the county urban thoroughfare program for this project.

DRAINAGE FUNDS

Councilmen also agreed to allocate funds to proceed with a drainage project at Arroyo Holon Creek. The low bid of $29,645 by Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael was $10,000 over the estimate but councilmen indicated they would award the bid at their next session July 5. Property owners involved are slated to contribute $8,000 toward the project.

The proposed budget also has $1,000 for temporary help in street work which Bathurst said could provide summer jobs for four or five students.

Take 'Hunky's' Stores, Carmichael Demands

BOSTON (AP) — Stokely Carmichael led a march through the streets of Boston's heavily Negro Roxbury section yesterday and told Negroes they must take control of the land and stores in their areas.

"We will control things in our communities by any means necessary," he told a rally in Franklin Park.

"If hunky (the white man) gets his store bombed out every Friday or Saturday," Carmichael said, "he's going to have to sell it to us."

He also otld the crowd that the only way to stop "racist aggression" by police "is by armed resistance." He did not elaborate but said, "as long as injustice prevails, there will be no peace."

Boston's acting mayor, Barry T. Hynes, had criticized Carmichael's visit, saying he "incites violence wherever he goes" and warned that violence would not be tolerated. Roxbury was the scene of Negro rioting the weekend of June 2-4.

There was only one minor incident yesterday. Police arrested a white man who was carrying a sign reading, "I fight poverty, I work." He scuffled with a small group of Negroes and was charged with breach of the peace.

Police estimated the crowd at Franklin Field at 3,000-4,000. About 400 persons joined in the five-mile march.

Jobless Pay Listed

Unemployment insurance paid out through the San Rafael office of the State Department of Employment during May totalled $303,970, according to Peter Weinberg, state director. Total for the state amounted to $45,861,045.

Hourly Wage Earnings Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Average hourly earnings of California factory workers moved up to an all-time high of $3.26 in May.

That was 11 cents above a year ago, said the state director of industrial relations.

Average gross weekly earnings of factory workers were $130.40, or 1.5 per cent above May, 1966.

Police Hunting For Escapers

VACAVILLE (AP)—Police are hunting two convicts who escaped from the medical facility at Vacaville Sunday.

They are Don Waller, 56, serving a life term for a 1954 murder in Contra Costa County, and Dennis Terrell, 49, a Los Angeles man convicted of theft.

Plums are commercially grown in Yugoslavia.

Restaurant Pact Reached

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A strike - lockout involving some 100 San Francisco Peninsula restaurants and taverns has apparently ended.

Twenty hours of continuous negotiation concluded with a tentative agreement early yesterday.

Full services will be resumed immediately, said a federal mediator.

The union sought a 7 per cent wage increase, but terms of the agreement were withheld pending ratification votes by the San Mateo Restaurant and Hotel Owners Association and Local 340 of the Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union.

Savings Bonds Sales

Sales of United States Savings Bonds in Marin last month totaled $182,060, according to local bonds chairman D. C. Davis. The Treasury Department's savings bond division in San Francisco reported that national sales for May were up 6 per cent over last year.

WE SEW SEATS

Car seats. With split seams.

For example . . . the little VW is a mighty fine car. It's put together by strong mechanics. They have contests to see who can tighten the bolts best. They never come apart. Except at the seams. We sew them up. With dacron thread. And they never come apart! (Sam, incidentally, pioneered the use of dacron thread in the automotive field in Marin. Just one of our many firsts.)

We sew seams for Fords, Chevs, and Plymouths, TRs, MGAs, and Alfas. And many more, too. We also install seat covers, auto glass and convertible tops, carpets, headrests and armrests. And many more.

Stop in today and show us your seam problem. Or glass breakage.

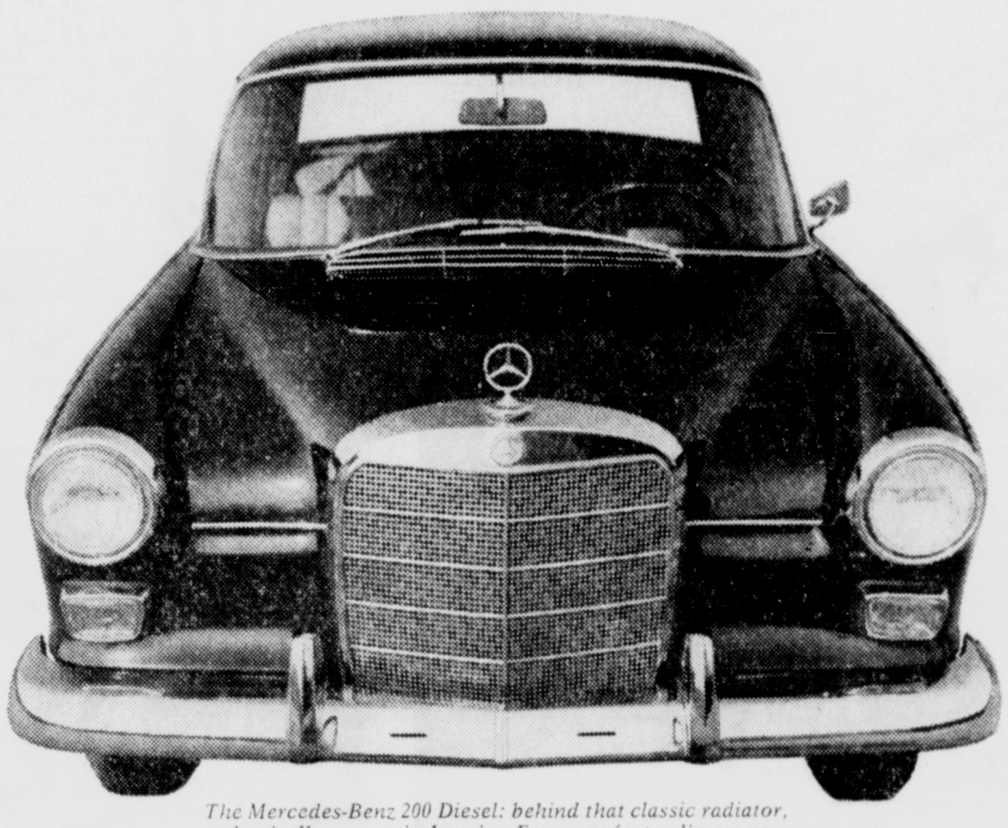
An economy car so economical it doesn't use gasoline: the Mercedes-Benz 200 Diesel.



The Mercedes-Benz 200 Diesel: behind that classic radiator, a classically economical engine. For more facts, clip coupon.

It burns inexpensive diesel fuel, at a miserly rate. It does without spark plugs, carburetors or distributors. Major overhauls before 75,000 miles are almost unheard of. These and other amazing facts make the Mercedes-Benz 200 Diesel one of the most economical cars ever invented—and a bargain at $4418*. Read the whole impressive story.

Give it the same care you'd use with any other piece of fine machinery, and your Mercedes-Benz 200 Diesel should cost less to run—and last far longer—than any car you've ever owned.

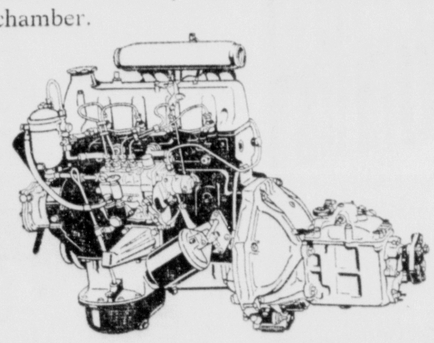
Supporting evidence: A hundred-thousand-mile career isn't unusual for a Mercedes-Benz Diesel. In fact, many owners have reported actually exceeding the five-hundred-thousand-mile mark.

And of the 500,000 Mercedes-Benz Diesels built since 1936, a recent survey found that over 87% are still ticking along.

Revealing the Diesel secret

A Mercedes-Benz engineer discloses how a Diesel can cut costs and last so long:

"The basic secret is efficiency. Unlike the carburetors in gasoline engines, a Diesel uses injection nozzles to force an exactly metered amount of fuel, at just the right instant, directly into the combustion chamber.



What makes the 200D tick—a Diesel engine.

"There, sheer compression heat—not a spark—ignites the fuel, with a high-energy explosion twice as powerful as in a standard gasoline V-8.

"This means more energy is squeezed out of every drop of fuel to turn the crankshaft. By this efficient combustion, much less fuel is wasted.

"Finally, a Diesel engine is a short-stroke design for more power with less piston travel and wear. And to withstand those high-energy explosions, a Diesel engine's block and crankshaft and bearings are all built to extra heavy-duty specifications."

The balance sheet

By using less expensive diesel fuel and less of it, the 200 Diesel saves money every time you fill up.

It uses no spark plugs, distributors, carburetors or points—so you'll never pay to repair or replace them.

And it's so strong, so durably built, that with proper care it will last for hundreds of thousands of miles—long after other cars have been chopped up for scrap.

The drawbacks? A Diesel engine makes a different sound than ordinary engines, and diesel fuel isn't available on every corner.

But these are minor points indeed. With its new five-main-bearing crankshaft, the 200 Diesel runs so smoothly at cruising speed that only a trained ear could tell it from a gasoline engine.

And you can buy diesel fuel at the thousands of stations that serve Diesel trucks. When you do tank up, you can go up to 500 miles before refueling.

Flimsy it isn't

Mercedes-Benz builds only a few thousand Diesels every year—and takes pains to build them right. This is one economy car that isn't cheaply made.

The 200 Diesel weighs a full one-and-a-half tons. Much of its heft comes from a heavy-gauge steel "unit" body shell, welded to a reinforced frame floor.

All told, a 200 Diesel body carries 10,000 welding points.

Welding seams are ground by hand. Corner joints are filled with pewter, blow-torched, smoothed down and polished. The entire body is held under the surface in a primer tank long enough to be completely coated, inside and out.

If the finish of your Diesel seems unusually rich and deep, remember that it's been painted three times with high-gloss enamel—and then hand rubbed.

Engineered to the hilt

The Diesel's economy and durability almost overshadow the fact that this is a superbly roadworthy machine.

You sweep over bumpy back roads on a fully independent, rear swing-axle suspension (the same design used on the $6,981 250SL sports car). You corner without wallowing or wildly squealing tires.

Caliper-type disc brakes are standard equipment on the front wheels. Scorching panic stops don't faze disc brakes—a reassuring fact. And they're power-assisted.

As other standard items, the Diesel counts 4-ply, high-speed tires; 4-speed manual transmission; even a built-in ventilation system that assures a constant fresh-air supply when all windows are shut tight.

Front-seat passengers are cradled in big separate seats, carefully shaped and padded to curb fatigue on long trips. The rear seat—also contoured—measures five feet across. Check that figure against far larger "luxury" sedans. You'll be pleasantly startled.

A word on safety

Mercedes-Benz has received widespread publicity about its safety engineering achievements over the past several years.

Work continues to make Mercedes-Benz cars even safer, both in avoiding trouble, and in protecting you if trouble should occur.

For sane drivers, Mercedes-Benz cars can help reduce the hazards of driving—without dulling its pleasures.

But however well engineered it may be, no car can entirely defend against the show-off, the drunkard, or the neurotic bent on self-destruction. Safety depends on you, too.

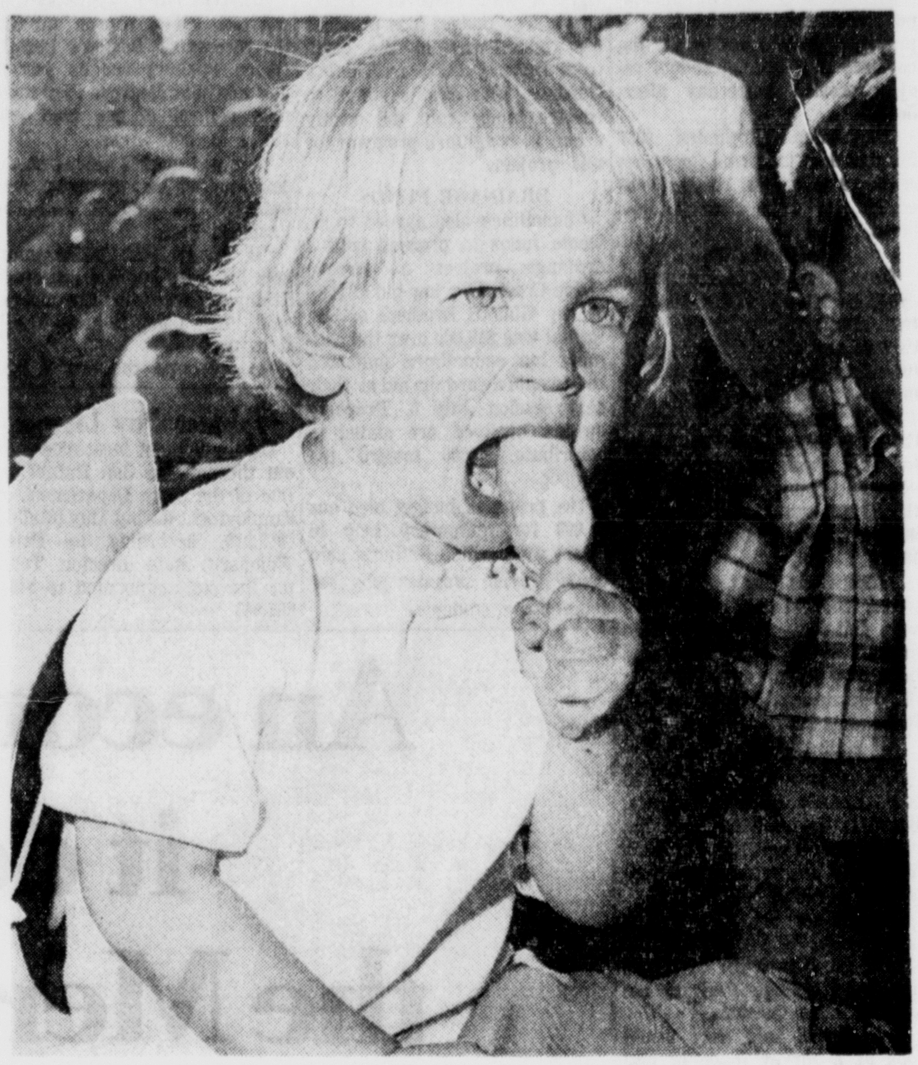
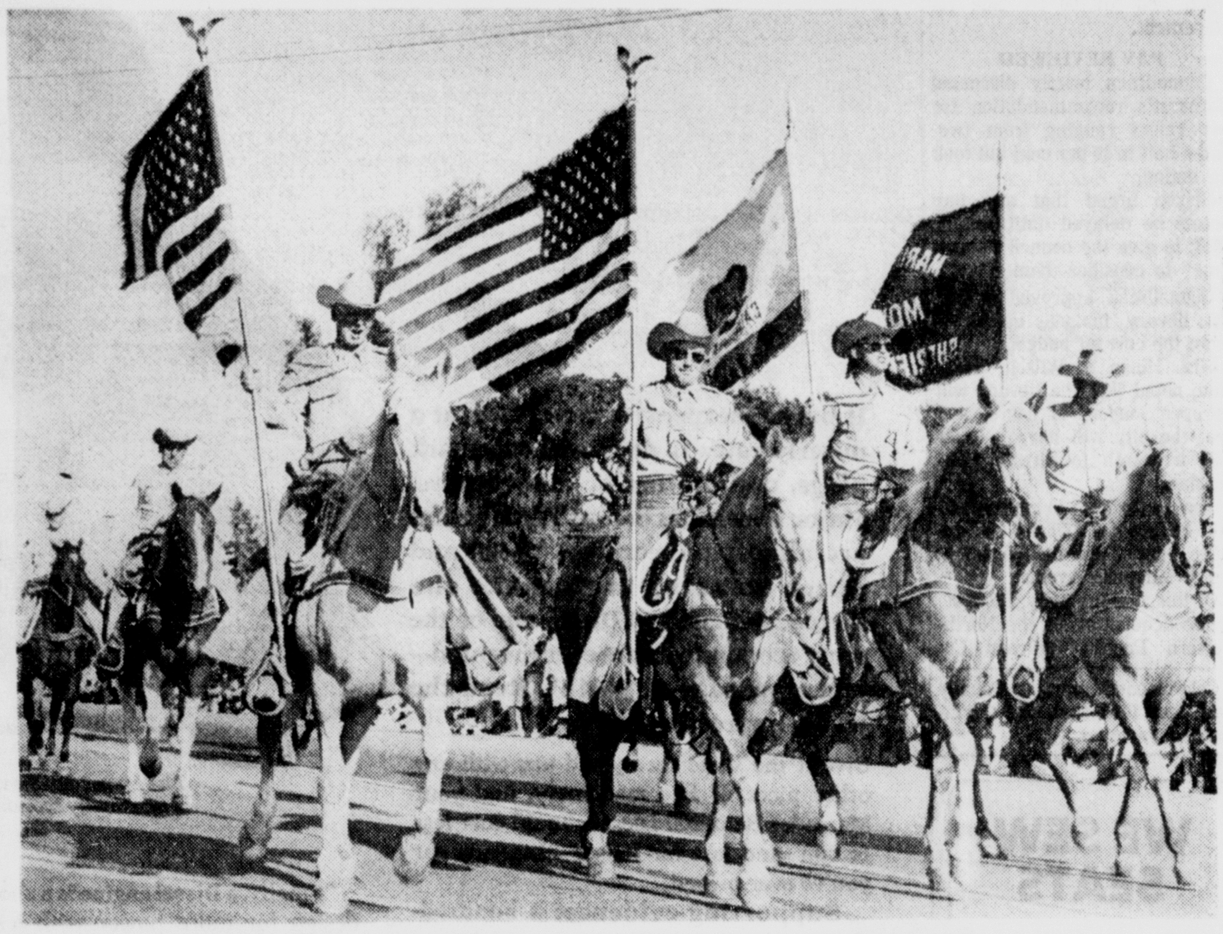
The Way It Looked At Novato's Western Parade

JUST KIDDING—Never trust a clown, the royalty of Western Week learned to their dismay during Saturday's parade in Novato which ended the week-long festivities. The clown has just thrown a bucket of "water" at parade watchers: it turned out to be confetti.



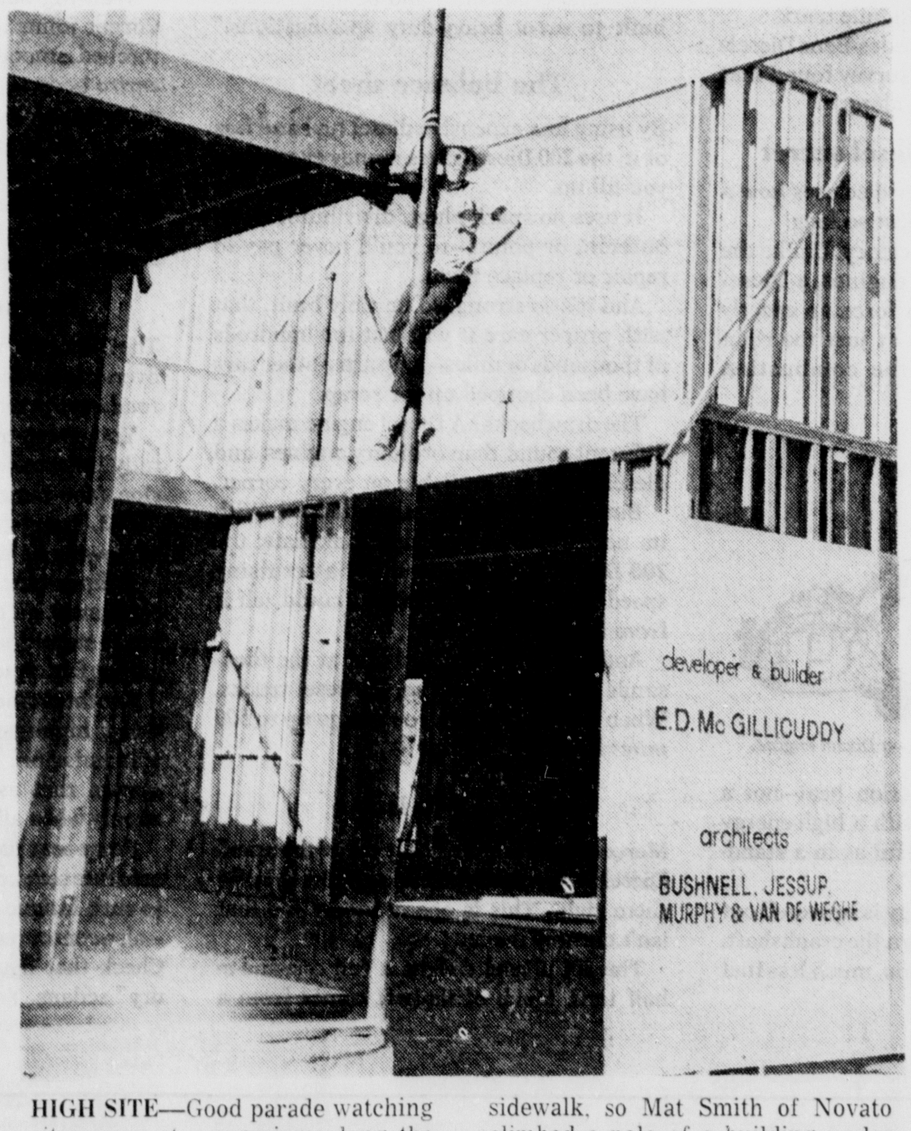
GOOEY VIEW—Christine Melquist of Novato was too wound up in the wild Western Week parade to watch her dribbling popsicle. Youngsters and adults lined the parade route to cheer horses and humans who marched.

BUCKING VARMINT—It's breeding was doubtful and lineage unlikely and this bucking motorized bronco almost ran into the crowd watching the parade. The march wound up events for Western Week, expanded this year from only a weekend of activities.



SHERIFFS ON HORSEBACK—The Marin Mounted Sheriff's Posse added to the pageantry of the parade.

TEMPTING—Anyone have a slingshot? This hawker with his floating merchandise was part of the colorful parade of bands, marchers and clopping horses as Novato went western.



HIGH SITE—Good parade watching sites were at a premium along the sidewalk, so Mat Smith of Novato climbed a pole of a building under construction along the parade route.

SCOTSMEN WENT WESTERN—There was piping and drumming mixed with the strains of wanging western guitars to celebrate the end of Western Week during Saturday's parade.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Don't Play Too Safe When You Are Young

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am 25 years old and have an insurance policy about to be paid off. I have adequate insurance without this policy and I would like to get started in stocks. I am considering buying Borden Company, Cleveland Electric, Continental Insurance, Owens-Illinois Glass, and Standard Oil of California. What is your opinion of this portfolio for someone in my position?" D.B.

A. You are very farsighted for your age. You have put together a conservative list of excellent quality, but whether these stocks are best suited for you is an altogether different question. There is such a thing as being too conservative when you are young, and I'm going to suggest three changes which, in my opinion, will put you in a stronger position without materially lessening your security.

Cleveland Electric, like most utilities, is affected by money conditions which appear to be hardening. I would postpone purchase of this stock and substitute Foxboro, an electronic and industrial controls issue. Standard Oil of California is quite heavily involved in the East and I would prefer Union Oil of California, which has had a stronger growth rate. Owens-Illinois is facing a profit squeeze and lower earnings. In its place I suggest American Home Products.

Q. "I recently bought the stock of a Canadian company. I'm told that I'm subject to a special tax. Can you explain this?" B.D.

A. If you bought a Canadian stock in Canada and paid for it with American dollars, you are subject to an interest equalization tax. This is a penalty imposed on foreign dollar investments which is intended to help our balance of payments problem. The tax amounts to 15 per cent of the purchase price and must be paid within a specified time to the Internal Revenue Service. They will provide you with the necessary form.

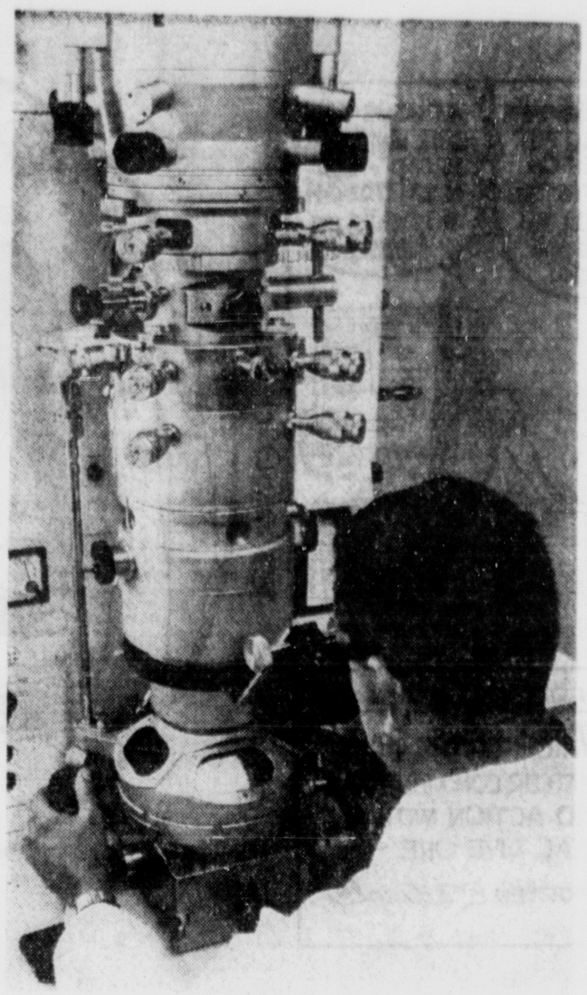
Tree Farms Growing: 70 Million Acres

NEW YORK (UPI)—American Forest Products Industries (AFPI) reports that acreage in the forest industry-sponsored American Tree Farm System passed the 70 million mark in 1966 with a gain of 3.38 million acres.

Forest lands certified in the program, instituted to meet increasing demands for raw material for wood and wood products, totaled 31,746 tree farms encompassing 70,166,051 acres as of Jan. 1, 1967, AFPI reports.



MAGNIFIES UP TO 1,600,000 TIMES

This new Siemons electron microscope recently installed at Memorex Corp., Santa Clara can make the head of a pin appear one mile wide. Manufactured in West Berlin, it is the first on the West Coast and will be used by Memorex in basic research and in the study and development of new products.

Stocks On Weak Side Near Close

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today following a statement by Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board that Congress should raise taxes promptly.

Trading was active.

Blue chips became ragged as Eastman Kodak dropped 2; General Electric, Union Carbide and Woolworth about a point each.

Meanwhile IBM rose 8, American Smelting 2 and Southern Railway 1.

It was a confused market as the interntional questions seemed to remain in abeyance while Wall Street turned its attention to an expected parade of second quarter earnings, many of which will be lower in comparison with a year ago.

A. J. Industries opened late on a block of 75,000, shares, up ½ at 7½ and held its gain, remaining well ahead on volume.

Also active, Pan American World Airways slumped about a point and American Can slipped more than 2.

Continental Copper lost about 1½ in heavy trading.

Gains of a point or so were points—but Woolworth, Zenith and Continental Copper lost about 1 each.

Polaroid lost half a dozen points.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly higher.

Tri-Di X-rays Help Industry

UTICA, N.Y. (UPI)—Three-dimensional X-rays are finding practical use in industry just as they have in medicine, according to Robert B. Gibbons of the Utica Division of the Bendix Corp. Gibbons says that in nondestructive testing, it is often vital to determine the exact location of an object or defect below the surface of a part being inspected.

This can be accomplished by taking two radiographs of the object at different angles and then viewing them through a stereoscope.

The two exposures then show the change of location of the defect and this change can be measured from the shadow of a lead marker placed at the surface.

Mowing Tractors Are Becoming Popular

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Fifty cents of every dollar spent by U.S. consumers on power mowers in 1966 was spent on rider or tractor models, according to a leading producer of powered turf-and yard-care equipment.

Sales of riding garden tractors during 1966 totaled 235,000. An increase to 275,000 units is expected during 1967, a spokesman for Toro Manufacturing Corporation says.

Homestead Savings and Loan Association, Sausalito, has acquired Inland Federal Savings of Antioch.

It is the third expansion for the 80-year old Sausalito firm. A branch office was opened at 5824 Geary Boulevard, San Francisco in June, 1966 and a second San Francisco branch was established at 272 West Portal Avenue last January.

The merger of Homestead and Inland Federal was by mutual agreement of the respective boards of directors. The four-branch association now reports its assets at $20 million.

Previously he was an accountant with Standard Oil Co. of California nine years and later with Arabian American Oil Co. as cashier and paymaster, chief construction account and assistant to the comptroller.

FRED J. BOWERMAN JR. of Lucas Valley has been appointed sales manager at the recently opened Marin Dodge, Inc., on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael. For many years both he and his father were with Ellis Brooks Chevrolet in San Francisco.

DONALD E. LAWSON of Marinwood, salesman for Chas. Pfizer and Co., marketer of antibiotics, vaccines and medicinals, has been attending the company's advanced speech training program to handle engagements addressing service clubs, women's groups and other lay audiences.

Marin Building Still Lagging

If you thought the music of hammer and saw was faint in Marin this spring, you were right. Construction has been down, along with the building slump in most of the state.

Building valuations on permits issued on new construction by the county and the cities totaled $3,790,901 during May, a drop of 47.7 per cent from May last year when the total was $7,252,769, according to the Marin County Chamber of Commerce.

Accumulated total through the first five months of this year now stand at $14,138,730 compared with $41,535,043 for the first five months of last year. That represents a drop of 66 per cent in value of construction starts.

New Notary Public

Secretary of State Frank W. Jordan today announced issuance of a notrary public commission to Colin C. Claxon, care of Buresh, Garety, Vallarino and Costamagna, 1299 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, June 26, the 177th day of 1967 with 188 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Pulitzer prize winning author Pearl Buck was born on this day in 1892.

On this day in history:

In 1900, Dr. Walter Reed headed a medical team in a campaign to wipe out yellow fever.

In 1917, the first troops of the American Expeditionary Forces reached France in World War One.

In 1944, the third largest port of France, Cherbourg, was liberated from the Nazis by the Allies.

In 1948, the United States began operation of the Berlin Airlift to bypass Soviet blockading of the western sector of the city.

A thought for the day: German philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer said: "The fundamental fault of the female character is that it has no sense of justice."

Italians Crush American Team Through Better Bidding Ways

Early in June the Italian bridge team won its tenth world championship in 11 years, crushing North America by better bidding.

This showed clearly in today's hand, in which Italy gained 17 international match points, the biggest swing of the final match.

During the entire match a pair of Italians held the North-South cards at one table, and a pair of Americans held those same North-South cards when the hand was replayed at the second table.

If the two pairs were evenly matched, they would get the same results on the same cards.

When New York experts Alvin Roth and Bill Root were North-South, they doubled Giorgio Belladonna at two spades.

The Roman ace made his contract with an overtrick, for a score of 870 points.

In the second room, Pietro Forquet and Benito Garozzo were far too clever to double two or even three spades.

Forquet went on to four clubs, was doubled and managed to make his contract for a further Italian score of 710 points.

DEFENSE SLIPS

Against four clubs, Toronto star Eric Murray should have led a trump.

He would get in with the ace of hearts in time to lead two more rounds of trumps.

Forquet won the actual diamond opening and led a heart.

Murray should have taken the ace of hearts and led two rounds of trumps, but he ducked.

Now there was no way to beat four clubs if South played the hand properly.

The hand was actually played badly by both sides, but the Americans made the last mistake and Forquet scrambled home with four clubs.

We needn't examine the play in each painful detail, the chief point is that Italy was sure of a good net result because of better bidding judgment.

Better judgment and better bidding systems throughout led to an overwhelming Italian victory.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

This is a borderline hand, and you would open if your clubs were spades.

You would then have two five-card major suits and you would have a convenient opening bid of one spade with a rebid in hearts.

In the actual hand you may run into trouble with your rebid.

WORKERS INCORPORATED—Hoy Buell (left) and Will McClendon start to work on a busy summer of yard work and odd chores. They have worked in summers past, but this summer Buell and McClendon have teamed up, incorporated and lined up jobs in advance. (Independent-Journal photo)

Business-Minded Teens Incorporate

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Two Redwood High School seniors decided about a month ago that, when going into business, it's best to incorporate.

They are: Will McClendon, 17, of 50 Marina Vista, Larkspur, and Hoy Buell, 16, of 482 Montecito Drive, Corte Madera.

"We'll do almost anything we're capable of," said McClendon and, to this, his partner, added: "We couldn't get all our job descriptions on our business card."

The pair weed, dig and prune; they haul trash to San Quentin dump and they make deliveries. "We'll even paint," said Buell.

GOT READY

Physical work started Monday when school was out but the enterprise started three weeks ago when the youths bought an old green truck for $350, gathered some tools and had business cards printed with their names and the message, "Yard Work/Hauling/Delivery."

The boys lined up one week's work in advance and last Thursday they were leveling a patio and planting a lawn.

McClendon and Buell did similar work in previous summers but this year decided to "incorporate."

"We decided we'd like a little company instead of working by ourselves," McClendon declared. "You work a lot better and faster when you have a companion," said Buell.

JOBS SCARCE

"Unless you have connections, it is rough for a teen-ager to get a steady job at one thing," McClendon pointed out. Buell said a friend of his advertised he would "do anything" but so far he has found only "little jobs." The young businessmen said they, too, have advertised their services.

(Robert C. Beebe, California state employment youth representative in San Rafael, reports the job picture for all Marin students, other than for domestic work, appears to be "slower" this year. He said about 2,500 students have registered for employment — high school and college — and that "a number of students are finding the jobs by getting out and pounding the pavement and by looking real sharp.")

Asked about rates, Buell hesitated a moment and then said, "we work for well under a professional gardener's price."

If the youths get more work than they can handle, they plan to farm it out to other youngsters. So far, they are keeping up.

VACATION PLANS

Will and Hoy hope to earn enough to take a vacation before school starts. Buell plans to go fishing. Will to travel.

In addition, they are getting an education in public relations.

"There is a lot of trust involved between the clients and us," McClendon reported.

On the debit side ,Hoy has got a case of poison oak and had one bad experience, he said. "I had a date with a man to haul away a bunch of boxes full of junk. I put it down in our date book last Thursday. I found out on Monday another man came up and hauled it away. I was going to give him (the client) some jive but decided it just wasn't worth it."

Hoy's philosophy about working is that "the best way to get something done is to let the person (he or McClendon) use his own judgment and not drive him."

LIKES WORK

Hoy, who said his name is Spanish for "today," likes the outdoor work because it is physical and he is able to be in the sun, stripped to the waist.

The boys provide their own hand equipment. Hoy explaining, "If we had power equipment, our rates would be higher."

McClendon said he believes there are a lot of people who need things done but there is a lack of communication. "We're trying to find ways for people to open their eyes a little and, if so, they would be able to get these things (jobs)done more quickly.

"People complain about kids not having anything to do in the summer, well, here we are trying to do something and it would help if people with jobs to be done would look around and try to find kids to do them."

Boardwalker To Keep Stilt House

Greenbrae Boardwalker Ola Hodges has blue flags posted in her marsh grass marking the 100-odd feet of walk she will lose when the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project puts her closer to the sea.

She is not upset about the loss of sea grass and gain to water. In fact, she is delighted she does not have to move again.

She and her late husband, Walter, were forced to move in 1947 when the Highway 101 drawbridge at Greenbrae was replaced by a modern cement overpass.

TO REMAIN

"I'm so glad I don't have to move this time," said Mrs. Hodges, who is nearing 76. "I thought at first I would have to."

"My husband and I were run out in 1947," she explained. At that time Mrs. Hodges and her husband were living in a different house on stilts over water just across the creek.

She lived there six years and in her present house, Waltola, 20 years.

Four neighboring houses and part of the Marin Boat House on the boardwalk will be demolished in the project which is to begin this year.

"I hate to see the two houses in front of me go because they have been here 50 years," Mrs. Hodges declared. One family, the Ernest Petersons, came here from San Francisco every summer, she said.

"We wrote to the President of the United States and senators and Don Clausen, congressman, and everyone — even to Mrs. Johnson—to stop destruction of the houses," Mrs. Hodges said. "And they made a change in plans. There were to be 17 houses demolished. Now it is just five."

About 25 feet of boardwalk will remain between the Hodges house and creek. Mrs. Hodges hasn't been advised yet if she can keep her boat landing.

Hodges, who was manager of the Greenbrae Rod and Gun Club, loved to fish and always kept his own boat.

The Hodges bought their present house at Rocky Point, Greenbrae, and had it barged to its new site. The house is built from lumber from the 1915 Panama - California International Exposition in San Francisco.

LIVES WITH DOG

Mrs. Hodges, who lives with her dog, Gidget, recalls the days of the drawbridge when motorists were held up "quite a while" when the bridge was lifted for large boats to go through. "Lots of kids have been raised in boats down here," she added.

There are about 45 homes in the area which Mrs. Hodges says is the original Greenbrae. "They," she related, motioning towards the hills, "took the name from us."

She septagenarian seems to be stirred by only two things on her stilt house: being aroused at night for tidal alerts and mice in the kitchen. For the latter she has built a foot-high board at the open door. "They (the field mice) can't seem to get over that," she said.

Pianist's Concert Will Finance Study

James H. McKissic, pianist, will play at 8 p.m. July 14 in "The Barn" at the Marin Art and Garden Center.

McKissic was the winner of the 1966 concerto competition at the University of California at Berkeley. Proceeds from a $2 donation will go into a scholarship fund for McKissic's continued study.

Bay Governments Board Will Meet

The executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments Thursday will discuss additional space for association offices, the time and place for the next general assembly meeting and the resignation of James Thurber from the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

The ABAG committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Hotel Claremont, Berkeley.

Fairfax Trustees

Trustees of the Fairfax School District will meet at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow, at the district office, to discuss contracts for new teachers, possibility of educational television and filing of a vacancy on the school board.

Boat Factory On Planners' Long Agenda

Tool sheds and the boating industry will occupy much of the San Rafael Planning Commission's time when it meets at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

E. K. Payntar will ask for a use permit and approval of plans for alterations and repairs at Barbary Coast Yacht Sales, 25 Third Street, and Robert McCarthy will seek a use permit for a houseboat factory on H Dock, Loch Lomond Drive, which would produce approximately one houseboat a month.

Three property owners, Lowell Bader of 45 Terra Linda Drive, D. T. Bergman of 728 Tamarack Drive, and Joseph Gratianne of 748 Tamarack Drive, will ask variances to allow construction of tool sheds.

The commission will elect a new chairman and vice chairman tomorrow.

Also on the agenda is proposed annexation fo 3.06 acres off Oakmont Court, and a proposed abandonment of part of McCoy Road, referred from the city council.

Paul Ciampi will ask approval of plans for two industrial buildings to be built at 103 and 111 Verdi Street, and Jeanne Baker will ask approval of plans for a supermarket at 93 Woodland Avenue.

Piling Permission

Kenneth Pasqualetti of 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco, has been granted permission to drive piling for a house and floating dock off West Shore Road in Belvedere, the Army Corps of Engineers reported this morning.

Arraignment Slated In Drugs Arrest

A 31-year-old Lagunitas machinist was to be arraigned in Marin Municipal Court today on charges of allegedly injecting a dangerous drug into the arm of an 18-year-old San Anselmo boy, causing the boy to require medical treatment.

Elden C. Valasco was arrested Friday evening after the boy came to San Anselmo police reporting : "My heart is pounding" and "I feel very sick."

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani called a doctor who found the youth, whose name was not disclosed by police, to be under the influence of a drug. The youth was taken to Ross General Hospital, treated and released.

The boy told police he went to Valasco's home with a friend at 10 p.m. Thursday where Valasco injected a shot of Methedrine into his arm. The injection, for which the boy paid $2.50, is called a "speed" injection, which means Methedrine.

Valasco, who lives at Cintura Avenue and Portrero Lane with his wife and children, put up a brief struggle when arrested by a seven-officer crew.

Novato Milk Truck Driver In Wild Ride

A Novato milk truck driver had a wild half-mile ride Saturday when the brakes failed on the milk truck he was driving and it sideswiped a parked pickup truck, knocked down a palm tree and landed against a hillsile at 4 Oak Springs Drive, San Anselmo.

Paul F. Lorenz, 40, of 3 Villa Maria Avenue, a Berkeley Farms Dairy driver, suffered head cuts and chest bruises and was treated and released at Marin General Hospital.

Police cited him for failure to maintain brakes in proper working condition.

He told officers his brakes failed at Oak Springs and Timothy Drive and he took several curves before coming to a halt near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne J. Carson, who are vacationing in Yosemite.

Tire Taken

Golf clubs and equipment worth $400 and a $50 spare wheel and tire were stolen from a car parked at the municipal parking lot at Fifth and A streets, San Rafael, Saturday, according to owner Harry James Lee of 120 Country Club Drive, Novato.

Sensible Proposal To Aid Minority Teachers

The State Board of Education has under consideration a proposal to subsidize capable Mexican-American and Negro students for training as teachers.

The proposal was advanced by Dr. Thomas G. Harward, a Needles physician who was appointed to the state board by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Heretofore, Democrats and so-called "liberals" have been identified with most of the projects calling for furthering the welfare of minority races. During the last campaign, Ronald Reagan, despite his emphatic denials, was accused of being hostile toward minority races.

The fact that a Reagan appointee is now proposing state subsidization of Mexican-American and Negro teachers should put this proposal above partisan politics.

Furthermore, the plan seems to have considerable merit, beyond the fact that it is getting bi-partisan support.

Dr. Harward calls for a full-cycle program, starting from high school and ending with a teaching job. He said the complete cost of the program should be borne by the state.

Whether or not the complete costs should be paid by the state is open to question. A partial state subsidization may be just the incentive needed to induce more members of the minority races to enter the teaching profession.

As another member of the State Board of Education cautioned, a detailed plan of action to implement Dr. Harward's proposal should be drawn up before the state board seeks funds from the Legislature.

Both federal and state tax dollars are now being spent for the war on poverty, compensatory education for the underprivileged and job training for the unskilled.

This program of encouraging minority races into the teaching profession should rank high in terms of benefits to society from each tax dollar spent. Whereas projects like job training will bring immediate benefits only to the individual affected, a skilled teacher can pass on the benefits he has received to the hundreds of students who would come within his purview during his lifetime teaching career.

And Then—No More Money!

Banks are turning more and more to computers to solve their problems. The biggest headache banks currently have is the labor involved in processing the 70 million checks which Americans write everyday.

Banking experts tell us that the next 10 years will witness a revolution in banking. The era of electronic banking, where every store will be connected to a bank or several banks by computer lines, and where money will be represented by electronic impulses instead of checks, may be just around the corner.

Already, the machinery can be made to perform these miracles and reduce billing, paper shuffling and accounting to a bare minimum. But public acceptance is another matter. For years banks have been telling us a check is the best kind of receipt. Now, they've got to undo all that and convince us that we trust their electronic blips.

But it is expected to be made easier by the Credit Card Generation, now reaching adulthood. Comes the Revolution — in banking, of course.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Halting Building Plans May Be Just A Shift Of 'Savings'

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's action in halting construction of a $4 million state building which his task force found was not needed in the foreseeable future is an indication to California's hard-pressed taxpayers that the administration at least is trying to do something on their behalf.

However, the governor's contention that the action results in immediate "savings" to the people who pay the bills will bear some scrutiny before citizens of the state, faced with an approximate billion-dollar tax increase next year, can swallow this line of reasoning.

GENERALLY, unspent money can be considered as "savings" only when it is treated as such by being placed in a savings fund. For example, if a householder sees a bargain advertised whereby he can purchase an item for say 80 cents rather than the normal price of a dollar, and makes the purchase, he has in effect saved nothing unless he puts the additional 20 cents in a savings fund.

What he then has accomplished is to obtain more goods for less money. But if he spends the 20 cents he thinks he "saved" on some other item, he is still out the 20 cents, having spent just as much as he originally intended.

THE STATE Government is in a similar situation. It has no fund into which it can deposit money actually "saved" by not spending it on some specific item. Thus, there is no immediate benefit to the tax-paying citizen, because the "saved" money is going to be spent eventually on some other item.

THIS IS TRUE in the case of the $4 million the governor says has been "saved" for the taxpayers.

It was contemplated originally that the money would be taken out of the motor vehicle tax fund. This fund, derived from sale of license plates and from certain other sources, goes partially to the Department of Motor Vehicles and the California Highway Patrol for support purposes.

What is left over after the needs of these two state agencies are met goes to the Department of Public Works for highway construction purposes.

Consequently, the $4 million probably will be used for the construction of highways, as noted by the governor in his press conference when he announced the "savings." The money will be spent for needed highways rather than what was found to be an unneeded state building.

THUS, THERE will be more benefit to the taxpayer as the result of spending the funds where they are the most needed, but as far as the $4 million being money "saved" goes, this is a myth. Had there been any reduction in the cost of automobile license plates, or drivers' licenses as a result of the so-called "savings," then it might have been a legitimate claim.

But in this instance, the taxpayer pays just as much as he did before for these services and is likely to go on paying just as much or more for some time to come.

No More Pay For Alan Bruce

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Apropos of my whopping raise in taxes just received — I have a suggestion for the board of supervisors:

If our county administrator, Alan Bruce, asks for another raise for himself and staff and additional help in his office to simply say "NO."

Rather I would suggest that we cut his salary and put on more police and raise their salaries and also that of our fire department.

I believe they are much more worthy.

Woman Versus The Crime Rate

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In a speech to the Federation of Woman's Clubs, Dr. Max Rafferty reportedly urged women to help stop the mounting crime. The heavy toll of crime concerns us all, but any realistic program has to start with the perpetrators.

According to the latest official statistics, of some 349,000 in American correctional institutions, 333,000 are male — over 95 per cent!! Yet, the male segment constitutes less than 50 per cent of the population.

One out of eight males earns $100 a week or more, but only one out of 200 females earns a $100 a week or more. Thus, your earning power is 25 times as good if you are a man. Still, the economically favored male commits almost all of the crime.

In what we know of recorded human history, going back a little less than 3500 years of rule by the male sex in overwhelming proportion, the periods of peace work out to some 6-7 per cent. The other 93 per cent of the time, men have been busy in killing others in larger and larger numbers, while using his intellect to create more and more sophisticated weapons of destruction.

If the women are to do anything, then they must be allowed to share in political power, so their influence can be used directly. It seems no more than fair that at least 50 per cent of the population should have a proportionate share in human programming. The continued survival of the human species in an atomic age might well depend on whether we alter our thinking to effectuate bisexual rule of society.

Some Employee Hikes Unsound

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to reinforce a statement made by J. McIntosh in regards to continuing raises by county employees. . . .

We cannot entirely blame our supervisors as this problem starts on the level of national and international economics. It is a fact, however, that one county will set an example of raise increases and this is used as an excuse to raise salaries in our own county, along with the union pressures indicated by Mr. McIntosh. Somewhere in county administration we need a Mr. Reagan to put a halt to this ridiculous spending. . . .

We have seen constant raises for county employees particularly in the higher eschelon but with the retired county employees as well as the retired county employees on disability we have seen little or no raises in the past few years. In this case there are not pressure groups to influence only the feeble request made by the retirees themselves. It is true there is such a thing as a retirement board. I fail to see why they bother to have meetings.

As an example of how ridiculous a situation can get because of increased taxes, take the plight of the very old retired person, particularly those old persons that live in the west side of San Rafael in some of those old antique-type homes. Their property taxes have continued to rise at a phenomenal rate while their retirement income has stayed at relatively constant level as of 30 years ago. I personally don't see how they exist. . . .

Mr. McIntosh has a good point and should be commended for it.

Let's Halt The Hippie Count

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Our dear supervisors have now increased the county's data processing budget from $347,692 to $505,389. These men must be sick. Almost every night the I-J carries at least one article regarding an increase in their salaries, an increase in their budgets or personnel. They have even set aside $50,000 for those bums which call themselves hippies. If the news medias would quit saying they are expecting 30,000 here, that many probably wouldn't show up. Regardless of how many show up, we should not have to put out one penny for them.

Now is the time for all you people who have been complaining about your taxes to stop talking and do something. We should stop all payment of property taxes until such time as these people become reasonable. I have been advised by a lawyer as to our rights. If we hold off paying our taxes, there is nothing they can do but sweat for five years; so what are we waiting for? Let's organize. We will lose only one-fourth of one per cent of our taxes each year if we put the same amount into a savings and loan. The penalty for late payment of taxes is 6 per cent and interest on a savings and loan is 5¾ per cent.

Let's make them run for their money and I mean in an election. When their terms are up, let's remember who they are.

The U. N. Can't Solve The Crisis

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The lengthy debates in the U.N. over the trouble in the Middle East show clearly the folly of expecting an international forum to handle serious problems between nations.

We're all glad to listen to the "distinguished representatives" in their speeches, but when it comes to really keeping the peace the U.N. is pathetically powerless. Only if the big nations agree does anything get settled. The U.N. doesn't truthfully represent the power (either military or economic) as it exists in the world today.

Let's quit thinking it can solve our serious problems.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

GOODMAN ACE, in his new book, "The Fine Art of Hypochondria," reveals that he, like every other New Yorker, has been having his trouble with local taxicab drivers. He boarded one cab, for instance, and announced: "I'm bound for Jackson Heights." The driver not too gently shoved him out of the cab and told him: "Not with me, buddy. I'm off duty." Goodman protested: "Your electric sign didn't say so when I hailed you." It does now," insisted the driver. "It's like TV. It takes time to warm up."

JOHNNY MERCER, who has written such whopping song hits as "Old Black Magic," "Laura," "Accentuate the Positive" and "Moon River," tells about the beautiful Chinese songstress who was implored to sing the latter song over and over again by American GI's when she did her act for them at remote army posts. She never found out why they loved that particular number best. They just liked hearing her pronounce it "Moon Liver."

Rockefeller's Stock Soars In GOP Presidential Bidding

NEW YORK — Huntley and Brinkley might put it this way: "The value of Nelson Rockefeller stock on the big Presidential board was up today."

And they would be right.

There is more than talk — there is substance — behind the newly visible support for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as the Republican nominee next year.

He has the open advocacy of some Republican governors and his nomination is the private hope of others. There is no doubt that there is significant movement in Rocky's direction.

WHAT IS IN doubt, at least in the minds of a number of GOP leaders, is what the governor's own reaction and response will ultimately be — should his prospects become serious, not just interesting.

You can talk with Rockefeller's supporters and opponents and with the governor himself and the conflicting answers tend to become a bit confusing. You have to pick out what you deem to be the most meaningful.

On the basis of my conversations it is my judgment that:

Rockefeller is a dedicated, all-out, undeviating supporter of Gov. George Romney. He is working hard for his nomination, spent several hours with him in New York a few days ago, and intends to keep on working for him.

ROCKY WILL be an all-weather Romney man. He will be pushing his candidacy when it is on the up and when it is down.

He believes Romney ought to be nominated, can be nominated, and will be nominated.

Rockefeller believes he himself cannot be nominated, will not be nominated, and finds it pretty ironic that those who refused to help him get the nomination in 1960 and helped him lose it in 1964 now seem disposed to want him nominated in 1968.

Rockefeller seems totally relaxed and at peace with the idea that he is completely out of the race. He is not fondling the idea that all these things are going to change

BUT THERE are important Republicans who are fondling the idea that circumstances are going to develop which will make Rocky's nomination appealing to the convention — and attainable.

They are those Republican moderates who are either not attracted to Romney or see his candidacy faltering. They either oppose Richard Nixon as too conservative or, liking him, believe he can't be elected. Therefore, they see the 1968 convention facing the end choice of picking either Gov. Ronald Reagan of California or Rockefeller. And they don't want to repeat what they consider the demonstrated mistake of 1964. They want Rockefeller. They want to win.

Should events reach such a climax, what will Rocky do? He won't quite discuss it in exactly these terms, but I can offer what I think are accurate impressions.

He doubts that events will reach this juncture. He is going to work hard and long for Romney and encourage all other Republican moderates to do the same.

BUT SHOULD Romney be conclusively removed from the race, Rocky is not going to duck into some political cave. Even the presently renewed interest in his nomination gives him no pain and, if the choice really becomes Reagan or Rocky, he will be responsive. He will answer every telephone in his office.

He is not yearning for a political battle. Besides losing the nomination twice, he has come through three other traumatic experiences — his divorce, the death of his son, and the insults heaped upon him at the Goldwater-dominated San Francisco convention. But he is not afraid of political battle, nor easily downed — as his remarkable third-term recovery in New York State demonstrated.

Rockefeller believes that only a tremendous crisis in the Republican party could cause the convention to nominate a liberal like himself.

His supporters think such a crisis is in the making.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

LBJ Bends In Mideast Speech

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's arms control proposal for the Middle East had all the teeth extracted just before it was unveiled in his foreign policy, speech last week.

At the 11th hour, under pressure from Llewellyn Thompson, U. S. ambassador to Russia, language was excised proposing a United Nations ban on all Middle East arms shipments until the Arab nations and Israel agree to a political settlement.

Also deleted from the President's policy-making speech was a call for the establishment of a U.S. peacekeeping force to police the arms ban.

AFTER THIS final hour editing, only the proposal providing that the big powers report their Middle East arms shipments to the U. N. remained of the arms control plan contained in the original draft.

The deletions were made during a weekend meeting of the President with his advisers at which Ambassador Thompson argued vigorously that the Soviet Union would never agree to the ban until the Arab military forces were restored to their pre-war strength.

Thompson suggested that the most effective U. S. strategy would be to keep the spotlight on all arms shipments to the Middle East by having the U. N. request public disclosure of all deliveries.

THE PROPOSAL of Thompson drew immediate support from McGeorge Bundy, the director of the special presidential committee for the Middle East.

He stressed that it was more important for the U. S. to work closely with the Kremlin to try to achieve a long-range settlement in the region than to try to block these arms shipments.

Also, since it was U. S. policy not to stop Soviet arms shipments to North Vietnam, Bundy pointed out, it was highly unlikely that the U. N. would go along with an arms ban against Russia in the Middle East.

SECRETARY OF State Rusk did not object to the deletions, although the State Department originally drafted the arms control proposal for inclusion in the President's speech.

When questioned by President Johnson as to his position, Rusk skirted the issue by saying he supported the idea that U. S.-Soviet cooperation should have the highest priority. He urged efforts be undertaken privately to get the Soviets to agree to cut down on arms shipments to the Arab nations.

In the face of this consensus the President agreed reluctantly to drop the tougher arms control proposal.

"GO AHEAD and make the changes Ambassador Thompson wants," instructed the President. "But one of these days, I'm going to make these proposals a lot tougher and see what happens. I'm getting tired of watering down everything in order to get the Russians to cooperate."

ART BUCHWALD

DeGaulle Can't Be Out Done; Uses His Own Little Hot Line

WASHINGTON — President Charles de Gaulle is a stickler for prestige, and as soon as President Johnson let it be known that he was on the hot line to Premier Kosygin during the Israeli-Arab war, De Gaulle also revealed that he was in touch with Premier Kosygin on his hot line to the Kremlin.

While we know some of what went on between President Johnson and Premier Kosygin on their hot line, no oneknew what De Gaulle and Kosygin talked about—until now.

"HELLO. PREMIER Kosygin. This is President De Gaulle."

"Yes, President De Gaulle. How are you?"

"I just wanted you to know . . ."

"Would you hold on just a minute, comrade president? I have President Johnson on the other line."

Fifteen minutes later De Gaulle angrily called again.

A secretary answered: "I'm sorry, Premier Kosygin is talking long distance. Can he call you back?"

"Can't I hold on?"

"I'M AFRAID he may be on for some time. Just leave your number, and I'm sure he'll get back to you."

A day later President De Gaulle called again.

"Ah, President De Gaulle," Kosygin said. "I was just going to call you. What can I do for you?"

"I wanted to explain France's position vis-a-vis the Middle East."

"Of course. What is your position?"

"I wish to say that the French position is. . . ."

"Oops! There goes the White House hot line. Can I put you on hold?"

Before De Gaulle could answer, there was a click. Three hours later De Gaulle was still holding the phone in his hand. He rang Kosygin again. By this time it was night in the Soviet Union, and instead of the Russian premier, De Gaulle got the babysitter, who said: "Mr. Kosygin went to the Bolshoi and won't be back until late. Would you care to leave a message?"

"Just tell him President De Gaulle called."

"Wait a minute, I have to get a pencil. Would you spell it for me?"

"D AS IN divine, E as in ego, G as in God, A as in Anglophobe, U as in unmovable, L as in lordly, L as in luminous and E as in explode if he doesn't call me back."

The next day Kosygin called De Gaulle on the hot line.

"I'm sorry, comrade president, that I never got back to you yesterday, but couldn't get President Johnson off the phone. Now please tell me what you wanted to say."

"All I wanted to say, Monsieur Kosygin, is that . . ."

While President De Gaulle was talking he could hear Kosygin on the other end of the line, presumably talking to someone else. "I can't talk to the American President now. I've got De Gaulle on the phone. What do you mean he can't wait? All right. Look, comrade president, I don't want to interrupt, but President Johnson has to talk to me immediately. I have an idea. Why don't I put you on the recording machine? When you hear three beeps, start talking, and when you hear three beeps again, you'll know the tape is used up."

BEFORE DE GAULLE could say anything, he heard the three beeps and he spoke into the phone.

"France's position in the Middle East is as follows: We will not do anything . . ." De Gaulle heard three beeps and a voice saying, "You have just made a recorded announcement. You may hang up now."

No one knows if Kosygin ever heard the tape, but someone did overhear the Soviet premier say to President De Gaulle as he was leaving Paris to come to the United Nations:

"Don't call me. I'll call you."

Increasing Lot Sizes On Agenda

Mill Valley Planning Director Harvey O. Bragdon will present his recommendation on a proposal to increase minimum lot sizes for about 100 parcels to the planning commission at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

Also on the agenda is a "philosophical discussion" by Bragdon "of the eventual withering away of the zoning ordinance."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., who calls Mexican-Americans "victims of the cruelest form of discrimination," has proposed that Spanish be the native language in some U. S. schools.

"In some cases," Yarborough told a congressional hearing Saturday, "the use of Spanish is forbidden to them and they are forced to struggle along as best they can in English."

Back From The War, He Hits At Hippies

By M. ELIZABETH JOHNSON

RICHARD E. BATES
Discouraging home front

"I'd rather be fighting the Communists over there than over here. . . . I'm very bitter finding so many young people are hippies and draft-dodgers at home."

These were two strong reactions of Richard E. Bates of 17 Tamalpais Avenue, Belvedere, home on 30 days leave from Vietnam.

Sergeant Bates arrived home on June 6, exactly a year from the day he shipped out. Richard (better known to friends as Bink) graduated from Redwood High School and enlisted in the Army in January, 1965.

After being stationed in Bamberg, Germany, for almost a year, he requested a transfer to Vietnam. "Some of my friends thought I was crazy to volunteer."

After a leave, he was flown to Pleiku, Vietnam, with the Fifth Battalion of the First Cavalry Division.

He was in the base camp only 40 days of his stint. The remainder of the time he was in the jungle. He found it impossible to talk about some of his experiences but was eloquent about his disappointment over hippies and draft-dodgers. He said he had seen conscientious objectors change their minds suddenly about fighting, once they found themselves in foxholes in Vietnam, with action exploding all around them.

Sergeant Bates spoke highly of the esperit de corps n Vietnam. "Everybody's doing their best over there. I feel our country should be fighting this war and we should win it. It's no fun, but we have to stop the Communists somewhere."

The sergeant's father, Richard J. Bates, was a pilot and received the Air Medal during World War II. He is understandably proud of his 19-year-old son who was given the Air Medal in the infantry in Vietnam for being in so many airborne missions.

He has two other brothers, Nicholas, 17, and Leslie, 13. Both attend San Rafael Military Academy.

He is scheduled to go to Fort Bragg, N.C., July 7, to assist in training other soldiers going to Vietnam.

Bates doesn't intend to make the Army his career but plans to go on to college and major in business, after he finishes his enlistment period.

Memorial For Copter Victims

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Memorial services were planned today in the chapel at the nearby New River Marine air facility for 22 Marines killed Friday in the crash of two helicopters.

Thirteen other Marines were injured in the collision 500 feet over the base. The helicopters were on training missions.

Trustees Plan Date for Bonds

Adoption of the preliminary budget and setting of a fall bond election is scheduled by Sausalito School District trustees 8 p.m. today in the district office, Nevada and Wateree Streets.

The preliminary budget, totaling $1,070,126, previously was presented. The new budget, down from the current $1.2 million, would nevertheless require a $3.208 property tax rate, up from the current $2.985 per $100 assessed valuation, estimated Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato. The higher rate would offset expiring state and federal aid programs.

The bond measure would help finance a proposed "educational park" on the Bayside site. The $3.4 million cost of a new plant would be financed by $1.4 million in bonds and sale of Richardson Bay and Central schools.

Review Of Budget

Almonte Sanitary District directors will prepare a preliminary budget for fiscal 1968 at 8 p.m. today in the district office, 223 Shoreline Highway, reported chairman Robert A. Alexander.

Navy Denies Explosions Connection

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The mystery of the exploding plastic balls deepened over the weekend. The mystery now concerns whether they explode or not.

Found on California beaches from Huntington in the south to San Mateo County in the north, the balls look like styrofoam on the outside and dirty orange on the inside. It was reported that they contain metallic sodium, which explodes when thrown into water, and that the Navy was responsible.

Not so, said a Navy spokesman here. No Navy plane has dropped any and the Navy knows nothing about them, he said. Furthermore, said the Navy, its ordnancemen have tested three of the balls found in Golden Gate Park. They won't burn, and won't explode when thrown into water or even when hit on impact.

Even so, ordnancemen agree that if you find one, don't experiment. Call police.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

A community project is occupying the time of a group of 20 Southern Marin women during the weeks of early summer.

Now under way, the project is to aid the Boys' Club of Southern Marin in Marin City with fund-raising activities.

The committee of 20 has taken on the job of contacting churches of all denominations to seek the help of members in supporting the Boys' Club. Their territory extends as far north as Terra Linda and west as far as San Geronimo Valley. North Marin has been excluded because a Novato Boys' Club is in process of organization.

THE VOLUNTEERS are all members of churches in Southern Marin, and their work on the project is an example of their "concern with the community," explained Mrs. Maurice M. Glazier, chairman of the contingent from St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere.

"We're neighbors. It's as simple as that," added Mrs. John S. Morton, chairman of the team from Mill Valley's Episcopal Church of Our Saviour.

Women volunteers from Marin City are Mrs. Jesse Berry and Mrs. Lincoln Simpson of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Ephorn Freeman of the First Mission Baptist Church and Mrs. Rosa Bell Ray of the Village Baptist Church.

Working with Mrs. Morton on the team from Church of Our Saviour are Mesdames Gerald H. Frank, Fred Cleavland, James R. Wirt, Jack E. Martin and Eugene A. Miller.

MARKY COOPER

Joseph Coopers Announce Daughter Marky's Betrothal

A late July wedding is being planned by Mary Margaret Cooper and Rex Hilary Tedd of Birmingham, England.

The couple's engagement was announced yesterday at a family dinner by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Welles Cooper Jr. of Kentfield.

Marky, as the bride-elect is known, is the sister of Joseph Welles Cooper III of Kentfield and the granddaughter of Stanley G. Swanberg of Fresno.

A graduate of the Katharine Branson School, Marky attended College of Marin, University of Southern California and University of California, where she affiliated with Alpha Phi sorority. She made her debut at the 1963 Marin Debutante Ball.

He was graduated from King Edward's School and Lincoln College, Oxford University, in jurisprudence. The past school year he has been employed at Osgoode Hall Law School, Toronto, as a teacher.

'Hummingbirds' Give Funds

A first year Bluebird group from Glenwood School in San Rafael, who call themselves "The Hummingbirds," have chosen as their special project for the year to donate to the Suzanne Stranzi Memorial Fund at Marindale School. The girls, ages seven and eight, saved money earned by selling Camp Fire mints. This, along with money left in their treasury will be given to Marindale School on Wednesday to buy books for the orthopedically handicapped children.

Suzanne Stranzy, who was the 1964 Muscular Dystrophy Association Poster Child, died on April 21, 1966, at the age of six. A memorial library fund was then set up in her name. Suzanne, who was confined to a wheel chair and had limited use of her hands, maintained an alert mind and sunny disposition through her books. A library fund seems very appropriate to honor her memory. One of the Bluebirds was acquainted with Suzanne before her death and has related her story to her friends.

The Bluebirds in the group are Kristen Bergesen, Bonnie Cohen, Karen Delucchi, Patty Fillingame, Barbara Fish, Kim Gilliland, Laurie Kalist, Cynthia Morrow, Kim Pickup, Leslie Sakson and Karen Shannon. Their leader is Mrs. Walt Delucchi.

The bride was graduated from Redwood High School and attended College of Marin.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. James Menke of Corte Madera and Clarence Bohannan of Santa Barbara, was graduated from Redwood High and Chico State College. He is employed at the Terra Linda Veterinary Hospital. He is the brother of Mrs. Vern Bowers of San Rafael and William, Sandra and Susan Menke of Corte Madera. HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Many Viewpoints Given About Married Man, The Philanderer

DEAR HELEN:

Speaking of Man the Philanderer: married men have totally phony values. Cheating is a status symbol at conventions; an ego-builder when they're traveling alone; something they must do to prove they're successful.

I'm one of those convenient party girls who con males into thinking they're carefree devils. With their "values" it's easy: "If you spend enough," they figure, "you've got to be having fun." I see that they spend enough! This somehow also eases their consciences. "If you pay," they figure, "you aren't really being unfaithful, just 'male.'" And besides you have to keep up with Tom Jones who is no doubt wondering why the blazes you don't calm down and let him get a little rest.

The stupidity of married men has brought me many luxuries, including a three-quarter length mink coat and a high rise apartment. I shouldn't sneer at them, but if I didn't, I'd have to cry at the pathetic little well-heeled creatures who for all their posturing mainly want their Mamas. —ON CALL

P.S. As you say, Helen, all married men aren't unfaithful—but if I were married, I'd see to it my husband didn't go to a convention alone!

DEAR HELEN:

So all married men aren't unfaithful? Maybe; but more and more Rover boys are taking off their wedding rings when they go out for a "night with the boys."

I am 23, unmarried, still hoping to find my Prince Charming, but the biggest question my friends and I ask is, "What makes us think we can keep our men from cheating?"

These fellows frequent all the places we go. At the Friday night bar bashes—they're fun and just about the only places these days where singles can meet each other and not feel like cheap pick-ups — you have to near third-degree a man. Some even have the nerve to say, "I love my wife, but oh you kid!" Most try to lie out of marrriage.

Why don't these "husbands" stay home where they belong? I'm sure they could find better uses for their money. Why don't married women keep tighter hold on them? Why do married men assume that all single girls are desperate? The single fellows we meet at the Friday-bars know the rules and don't expect too much. That is basically how we can tell them apart. If a guy hands you a proposition in the first half hour — he's married! —HUSBANDS, GO HOME!

DEAR HGH:

Along with the ID cards, maybe Friday-night bartenders should also check for marriage licenses, no? —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Women who complain that all the married men they meet are unfaithful are bragging. Or hopeful. My husband kids along with this sort—they're in every office. But I know I can trust him, even in a harem—probably. —MINE

DEAR HELEN:

I resent these dames who downgrade all married men because those they see in the places they hang out are on the make. Most husbands know an affair is too much bother and worry for what you gain from it. We might be tempted but we have too much to lose. —THOROUGHLY MARRIED

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, JUNE 26, 1967 — 17

30,000 See Big Novato Parade

A crowd estimated at 30,000 watched the two-hour Western Week parade on Grand and Virginia avenues in Novato Satuday night in which military and civilian groups competed for awards.

Only one fight marred the windup to Western Week when a group of motorcyclists tried to join the end of the parade. Two Novato youths were jailed for assault and battery and four members of the Gypsy Jokers motorcycle club were arrested on other charges.

BARS CLOSED

Police Chief Robert Di Grazia credited much of the success in handling the large crowd to the voluntary closing of Novato's bars Saturday and to help given Novato police by other law enforcement agencies.

Booked for assault and battery were Mark Giddens, 18, of 23 Nancy Drive, and Brade Calvin Willis, 18, of 18 Romar Court, Apt. 14. Bail was set at $386 apiece.

Gypsy Jokers arrested were Phillip Louis Mesina, 18, and Donald Leroy Ragganttie, 25, both of San Francisco, booked for joyriding on heavy equipment; Michael John Goodson, 24, of Agnew, for driving with a suspended license, and Joseph Barone, 25, of 92 Willow Avenue, Fairfax, for outstanding traffic warrants.

Bail was set at $276 apiece for Mesina and Ragghanttie, and $298 for Goodson, and $59 for Barone.

The Novato Junior Women's Club, which has had a float in every Western Week parade to date, took first place for the civic groups' amateur-built floats.

The club crowded a knoll near Novato with antennas, campers, trailers and radio equipment Saturday and Sunday for a nation-wide amateur radio field day. The club used five transmitters and reached about 1,100 other stations across the nation in the 24-hour exercise. A portable generator powered the radios. A steak barbecue Saturday night powered the club members. (Independent-Journal photo)

Apartment Theft Suspect Jailed

A 23-year-old San Rafael man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on suspicion of the burglary of the manager's apartment at Wilkins Hotel in San Rafael.

George D. Beauchamp of 1135 Fourth Street, room 19, was arrested last night after witnesses said they saw him leaving the apartment of manager Hans Carl Jorgenson, who was absent at the time.

Beauchamp denied the allegations and said he had called at the manager's apartment to borrow some tinfoil with which to wrap some fish.

Police said a print of a tennis shoe in a sink under the apartment's kitchen window corresponded closely to shoes worn by Beauchamp. The suspect was held on $5,500 bail.

Guilty Plea To Bad Checks

Guilty plea to a count of passing worthless checks was entered in Marin Superior Court today by Maurice Lewis Margolis, 56.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson then scheduled judgment for July 24 and dismissed a second count of passing bad checks on recommendation of Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

Margolis, of 155 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, passed four checks totaling $155 in the Tiburon area Jan. 10-27.

Burglary Hearing

Gene Renal Toikka, 21, of 21 Elmwood Court, Novato, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court today on a felony complaint of burglary of Bret Harte Beauty Salon at 98 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, on June 14. Plea entry was scheduled for July 5.

Arraignment On Burglary

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court today arraigned Raymond Joseph Penoli Jr., 27, and June Elizabeth Bitting, 28, on a joint charge of burglary of a locked station wagon.

Attorney W. O. Weissich, representing the pair, made a motion for dismissal of the charge on grounds of insufficient evidence. Judge Wilson scheduled a ruling on the motion and entry of pleas for 9:30 a.m. July 17.

Penoli, of 655 Canal Street, San Rafael, and Mrs. Bitting, of Vallejo, allegedly burgled the vehicle of Robert William Levene of Fair Oaks, Sacramento County, while it was parked at the Lodge near Novato on March 3.

Retired Naval Officer Drowns In Boat Fall

Retired Navy Capt. Walter C. (Mike) Beatie Jr. of Ross drowned late Saturday afternoon after falling from a friend's boat as it was docking at Paradise Cay in Belvedere.

Beatie, 61, heavily-decorated veteran of World War II and the Korean War, bruised his forehead when he struck the boat owned by George H. Hamilton of 208 Laurel Grove Avenue, Ross, according to Deputy Coroner Keith C. Craig.

He fell into the water and was swept about 60 feet from shore before two passersby, Ronald L. Hunter of Mill Valley and Mark Stock of San Rafael, pulled him out. They attempted mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, but he was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital.

Craig said he expects a toxicological report in a week, which may provide a clue as to why Beatie fell.

Beatie, a native of Sausalito, joined the Navy shortly after the Pearl Harbor attack in December, 1941. He served in the Pacific, Middle Eastern, African and European theaters, including the Normandy landing in 1944, where he earned the Bronze Star.

He took part in the atomic test at Bikini Atoll in the Pacific in 1946. After serving in Korea, he helped transfer Vietnamese refugees from north to south after the Geneva Agreement ended the war between the French and the Viet Minh in 1954.

Beatie had run a savings and loan firm in Hood River, Ore., before World War II. In 1960 he left the Navy to take an executive position with American President Lines. He was a captain with APL and held a master's license.

Beatie attended the University of California, where he was a member of Chi Phi fraternity. He was also a member of the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco.

He lived with his wife, Mrs. Beth H. Beatie, at 64 Brookwood Lane, Ross.

Besides Mrs. Beatie, he is survived by a son, Michael L. Beatie of Ross; two daughters, Mrs. Thomas A. Ely of Orinda and Karen B. Beatie of Ross; a sister, Mrs. Frank B. Williams of Sausalito, and two grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito. Inurnment will be private.

Theft Saturday night of auto parts worth $74 from junk vehicles behing 134 Camino Alto was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Langdon Alvord. Four tires, a carburetor and battery were taken, he said.

Roger W. Bennetts, 150 Alta Vista Avenue, Mill Valley, reported Saturday to police that parts worth $104 were taken Friday night from his car while parked behind his house. The radiator, two chrome wheels and a horn button were taken, he said.

Mail boxes were torn from their posts Friday night, police reported, at the residences of Mrs. Meta V. Spirz, 77 Kipling Drive, and Ted N. Neighbor, 125 Roque Moraes Drive.

Driver Cited In Car Wreck

One driver suffered minor injuries when two cars collided at the intersection of Lucas Valley and Las Gallinas roads yesterday at 3:55 p.m. in Lucas Valley.

James Michael Kennedy, 25, of 79 Twelve Oak Hill Drive, San Rafael, was cited by the California Highway Patrol for failing to yield to through traffic at the intersection. His southbound car on Las Gallinas Road was struck by an eastbound car on Lucas Valley Road, driven by David Carl Dohn, 20, of 3 Las Huertas Court, San Rafael.

Dohn was treated at Marin General Hospital for a scraped knee and arm.

Cars Hit By Eggs

Mrs. Donald M. Bekins, 85 Bellevue Avenue, reported yesterday to Belvedere police that during the night someone had thrown eggs on her car parked outside her residence. Police said several other cars on the same street had been egg-spattered.

Marine Corps General Feels Reserves Might Be Called

By GLEN BECKER

Marine Reserves will be called to active duty if more Marines are needed in Vietnam and present rotation policies are not altered, the director of the Marine Corps Reserves predicted in San Rafael Saturday.

The Marine force now in Vietnam "is about the maximum we can support under the present rotation policy of a 13-month tour followed by two years in the States before a man can be sent back out there," said Brig. Gen. Clifford B. Drake.

INSPECTION TOUR

He was in San Rafael to inspect the local reserve unit, Company M of the Third Battalion, 23rd Regiment, Fourth Marine Division. Before inspecting the company, he was honored at a luncheon at Dominic's Harbor restaurant in San Rafael, and promoted some Company M personnel.

The Marines have two divisions and a reinforced air wing in Vietnam, out of total active strength of four divisions and three air wings. If more are required, Gen. Drake said, the reserves are the "logical choice."

(General William Westmoreland, American commander in Vietnam, has requested more troops. Intensified activity in the I Corps area is said to be a reason for his request. This is where the Marines fought a series of vicious battles with the North Vietnamese last month for possession of several hills dominating infiltration routes from the north.)

BRIG GEN. CLIFFORD B. DRAKE
Marine Reserve chief

General Drake said the most critical effect of these battles was to "draw our Marines away from the 'clear-and-hold' operations. If more are sent there, it will be so we don't have to lessen the pace of this vital activity."

He described the "clear-and-hold" operations as one of four Marine missions in Vietnam. The first is to "provide security for our bases there at Da Nang, Chu Lai and elsewhere."

The second is the location and destruction of main force Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces—and the search-and-destroy operation. The third is the clear-and-hold operation, which Drake said was the one which Gen. Lewis Walt, the first Marine commander in Vietnam who recently returned to Washington, considers the most important.

The fourth is the civic action program, whereby the Marines attempt to help the South Vietnamese organize their national life by constructing schools and hospitals, and protecting the local government officials who have fallen prey to the Viet Cong by the thousands in past years.

HOLD TERRITORY

When the Marines first took up duty at Da Nang two years ago, Drake said, "we held about 16 square miles free of Viet Cong. Now we hold close to 2,000 square miles in I Corps where for the first time since 1954 people enjoy freedom from murder and terrorism."

He sees no quick end to the Marine mission in Vietnam. "We've been in Europe since World War II, Korea since 1950. A great deal depends on the growth of the current generation of grade school children in South Vietnam."

The general was asked for his view on the proper role after the war of the Viet Cong.

"This is my own personal view," he specified. "I think there must be an accommodation, for the VC are native South Vietnamese.

"They must be convinced that forcing their will and the Communist will on the people is the wrong way to go about building a nation. And we are convincing them," he added, noting the rising Viet Cong defection rate.

Sausalitan Rejects His College Degree

Sausalitan Peter Adair has rejected the bachelor's degree he earned at Antioch College, Ohio, in attempt to shatter the school's links with "the academic establishment."

Adair, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Adair of 7 Miller Avenue, objected to the college's refusal to take a stand on the Vietnam war, what he called the irrelevance of education to society, and the college's failure to give courses in mass communication.

Antioch's faculty voted Adair his degree in art despite his stand because he had met all requirements.

Adair told the college of liberal arts and sciences last week he would not "bother taking the time to try to change" Antioch if he did not think it was "perhaps the best in the country."

Adair, an art major, helped organize and teach a course in film-making. He also spent several quarters studying and filming a fundamentalist religious group in the Appalachians, producing a film called "Holy Ghost People" as his senior project.

Mrs. Adair said her son was now in New York and would return to California in a few weeks. His plans for the future are indefinite, she said.

Sausalito Girl Arrested In Raid On Hippie Cabin

A 14-year-old runaway Sausalito girl was arrested early today by Sonoma County sheriff's deputies in a raid on a hippie cabin near Guerneville.

Officers also seized eight kilos of marijuana and a large quanity of other drugs in the cabin on Highway 116 between Guerneville and Forestville.

Police made the raid at 3:20 a.m. on the basis of information supplied to Sausalito police.

The girl, who ran away two weeks ago, was held by Sonoma County Juvenile authorities. She reportedly lived in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury before moving to the Sonoma cabin.

Conditions Listed In Building Smash

Victor Broden of San Francisco remained in fair condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital. He was admitted last Thursday after a runaway car demolished the San Rafael building in which he was working. Mildred M. Wade of San Francisco, also injured in the accident, was in good condition today at Marin General.

Gunman Holds Up Sausalito Grocery

A robber armed with a pearl-handled gun with a long barrel last night held up a Sausalito grocery and escaped with up to $300 in cash, police reported.

Mary M. Crooks, 39, a checker at Stop and Go Market, 109 Second Street, told police she was alone when the two young men came into the market at about 9:25 p.m.

"Open the register," ordered the one with the gun. "This is a hold up. Hurry! Hurry! Give me the money."

As soon as he had the money, the robber and his accomplice ran out the door and down Second Street, Mrs. Crooks told police. Sheard no car.

Mrs. Crooks, of San Francisco, said both men were Negroes, about 20, five feet, six inches tall, and had medium builds.

How To Study Course To Start Today

A four-day, 10-hour course in "How to Study in College" will start at 7 p.m. today at the chemistry building lecture hall, College of Marin, sponsored by the Marin Young Men's Christian Association.

The course on study and course preparation for high school graduates starting college this fall, will be given by Floyd Fithian, history professor at Purdue University. Classes will meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m. today through Thursday.

Forty more sutdents can be enrolled in the course, which has 105 signed up now, David Greenlee of the YMCA said today.

The course, aimed at combating the high college dropout rate, will teach how to take lecture notes, how to plan time, the basic study formula, motivation, taking tests, how to use the library, counseling, personal probelms in adjusting to college, and what the student should know about courses and professors.

Valuable Art Reported Taken

A Corte Madera designer's home was burgled over the week end and $2,570 in loot taken, including valuable 16th and 18th Century paintings and etchings.

Leon H. Galleto told police that he discovered his loss when he returned to his home at 488 Redwood Avenue at 5 a.m., yesterday.

Missing, Galleto told officers, were an 18th Century George Morland oil, $540; a 16th Century A. Durer Copper etching in gold frame, $525; an 18th Century oil portrait, $500; six other etchings, a $400 Persian rug, a lamp, walnut table and 12-place setting of pottery.

Radio Taken

Theft of a $150 portable radio from his unlocked car while parked Saturday night in front of 789 Bridgeway was reported yesterday to Sausalito police by Craig W. Dorsey, 83 Filbert Avenue.

Murderer Enters Quentin Death Row

Gerald A. Beivelman, 28, sentenced to death for murdering a woman in a Sacramento liquor store robbery last March, entered San Quentin's death row last Friday afternoon.

Senior Citizens Afraid Of Colds

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Persons past the age of 65 spend more time worrying about coming down with the common cold than lapsing into some mental illness, according to a health researcher.

Dr. James W. Swinehart of the University of Michigan said a survey of tte 10 most worrisome health problems showed that heart trouble was the top concern. Next in order came arthritis, cancer and stroke.

But the common cold, which ranked seventh, was shown to be a bigger concern to senior citizens than mental illness, diabetes and tuberculosis.

Changes Seen At Universities

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)— The colleges and universities of the future will be even less of "ivory towers" than they are today, an educator has predicted.

Juan Gomez Millas, minister of education in Chile, told a recent conference that the world's universities will be enrolling more students in a wider age range.

He said these students will have a larger degree of "responsible participation, together with professors and administrators, in decisions and administration, especially in programs that deal directly with them."

Racial Mixing Benefits Pupils

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)— Mixing Negro children into previously all-white schools helps the minority group to learn more, a researcher reports.

Prof. Thomas F. Pettigrew of Harvard University said surveys of school integration indicate Negro children are the benefactors, despite the quality of the school or social class differences.

The Negro children do not benefit, he said, however, when lower class Negro children are mixed in with middle or upper class Negro children.

Scaly Pet May Hold Record For Owners

HAHIRA, Ga. (UPI) —E.B. Jones Sr. may hold a record of sorts for keeping the same pet since 1908. Jones' pet measures 6-feet-7 from nose to tail, is simple and cheap to keep and may outlive its owner.

The pet is a black alligator named Jim, which will be changed to Jemima if an egg is ever produced as proof. Jones and his older brother, Will, obtained the alligator when they were teen-agers probing around a 'gator hole at the request of a neighbor who was missing some pigs. Jim was only 18 inches long then.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Knuckle Cracking Habit Can Sometimes Bring On Arthritis

VAN DELLEN

J. V. writes: "A friend of mine cracks his knuckles, the bones in his feet, ankles, arms, and wrists. Is there something mentally wrong with such an individual? Please tell me what such maneuvers do to the bones."

It does not harm the bones, but certain joints and bursa may become irritated. The noise usually stems from stretching the fibrous capsule and a good description of this is the sound created when a bulging oil drum is pressed in. In other instances, the fibrous ligament rubs against a bony prominence.

KNUCKLE SNAPPING is not harmful unless it becomes a habit. In time the joint becomes irritated and arthritis may develop. The creaking noise that comes from the knees when squatting should cause no concern, but it should not be done excessively. Hip trouble develops in some girls who repeatedly extend the hip outwardly to make a loud clunking sound.

The ankle also may become irritated when constantly twisted. Shoulder noises can be produced easily by movements involving the rotary cuff. Most adults hear a clicking sound in the neck when the head is turned.

A RETIRED PHYSICIAN suggested a hint concerning the prevention of wrist fracture. The victim usually slips or stumbles. On falling, he allows the weight of his body to be directed against the out-stretched palm in an attempt to break the fall. The full impact is transmitted to the lower end of the radius bone near the wrist joint. This is avoided by closing the hand and landing on the fist. This type of fracture (Colles) is common in oldsters and more often in men.

Our writer, who wishes to be anonymous, states that this is taught in the German school where he received his medical training. The technic can be practiced at home by falling on the bed with the hand open and again when it is closed. Making a fist when falling lessens the chance of breaking the wrist.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

GALL BLADDED BOUTS

Mrs. W. writes: My gall bladder never bothers me except during pregnancy. Would you have an idea why this happens?

REPLY

Gall bladder trouble may occur during pregnancy when the flow of bile is sluggish and the structure does not drain properly. On the other hand, it is not fair to blame the organ for every digestive upset during pregnancy because expectant mothers with normal gall bladders are troubled.

ALLERGY AND SINUS

N. H. writes: Is sinus disease an allergy?

REPLY

Sinus disease usually is due to bacterial infection complicating a head cold. Allergy may produce similar symptoms, and this origin is suspected when the condition recurs during certain seasons of the year or persists after the usual treatment.

INFECTION FROM MILK

W. P. writes: Can brucellosis be caught from drinking milk that is not pasteurized?

REPLY

Yes. This is one of the ways in which the disease is contracted. When I take a trip I always insist upon pasteurized milk, unless the milk is certified to be free from disease.

HAIR LOS SAND HEPATITIS

S. N. writes: Is it possible to start losing hair after an attack of hepatitis? If so, will the hair regrow?

REPLY

Loss of hair and its regrowth have been reported after any type of infection.

Money, Papers Taken From Drop

Charles Leone of San Anselmo, the Novato dealer for the Independent-Journal reported to San Rafael police the theft of an envelope from the mail drop of the Independent-Journal's office in B Street.

Leone said the envelope contained $57.51 in cash, checks including one made out to the I-J for $2,000, and papers for calssified ads. The theft was reported at 6:10 p.m. Friday.

Bulging Pocket Is Give Away

A bulging pocket was a give away for a 14-year-old Larkspur boy who was arrested by police at 7:35 p.m. yesterday and booked in Juvenile Hall on suspicion of possession of marijuana.

Police said they received a call advising them that some children were "tearing up" the old railroad bridge at the end of Ward Street. Responding, they saw a boy riding away on his bicycle.

The officers noticed something bulging in his back pocket and when asked what it was, the youth took out a plastic container containing what was believed to be a marijuana cigarette. In addition, the boy had a small bottle containing what appeared to be freshly-cut marijuana, police said.

Funds For Schools

School districts in Marin received a total $8,648,754 from the state school fund for the 1966-67 school year with $5,408,919 for elementary schools, $2,211,325 for high schools and $795,775 for the junior college district, the state department of education announced today.

Bartender's Wet Towel Means Jail

Bartender Edward Cleland threw in the towel yesterday — and was promptly arrested.

The towel, described as 'wet, intoxicant' smelling bartowel," struck San Rafael Police Officer Raymond Maynard full in the chest while he was investigating a disturbance at Hoagy's Bar at 714 Fourth Street.

During the earlier incident, customer Nancy LaVonne Chambers of 747 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael reported being knocked from her stoool by an unidentified man who fled the bar.

She was admitted to Marin General Hospital for observation for a back injury.

Meanwhile, Cleland was told to close the bar and was booked into Marin County Jail on a charge of battery of a police officer. He was released on $276 bail to appear Wednesday at Marin Municipal Court.

Woman Injured As Auto Slides

Gail Smith, 24, of 240 Redwood Highway, Sausalito, was seriously injured yesterday at 1:30 p.m. when her car, in which she was a passenger, skidded off Shoreline Highway three miles south of Stinson Beach, overturned and was totally wrecked.

An amateur radio operator, Pat Bowen, 16, of 16 Morning Sun Avenue, Mill Valley, driving ahead, heard the skid and saw the accident in his rear-view mirror, then notified the California Highway Patrol on his mobile radio.

Driver of the car was Dave Loring of the same Sausalito address, according to the patrol.

She was reported in Marin General Hospital intensive care today for fractured ribs and multiple bruises.

Hiking Debt Limit Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee quickly approved today the bill to raise the national debt limit to $358 billion.

The committee rejected three amendments offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., and then cleared the measure to the Senate floor by voice vote.

Democratic leaders are anxious to get the measure through the Senate without any change so that it will go directly to President Johnson without the necessity of a conference with the House.

The House approved earlier this month a hike in the permanent ceiling—to $358 billion.

Cairo Closes Down Airport

CAIRO (AP) — Cairo's international airport was closed to commercial flights this morning amid considerable activity of Egyptian jet fighter planes over the outskirts of the capital.

The closure went into effect shortly after a delegation from Communist Czechoslovakia arrived.

No expanation was given for the action.

Reds Say Hong Kong Situation Dangerous

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist China today warned Britain that "the Hong Kong situation has developed into a dangerous state" and blamed London for the worsening relations.

Radio Peking broadcast a protest note it said was handed to the British charge in Peking. The Communists for two months have been attempting to humble authorities in the British crown colony.

The broadcast said the note referred to the new rioting that erupted Friday and reiterated the list of Chinese demands it earlier put to the British.

"The Chinese government asks the British government to immediately instruct the Hong Kong British authorities to accept honestly all just demands put forward by our patriotic compatriots in Hong Kong," the note said.

The note labeled British police action as "fanatic provocations and fascist atrocities" in the Crown Colony. Friday's riots were touched off by a fatal shooting of a leftist union member by police during an attack on two detectives.

The Hong Kong Fishing Industry and Commercial General Association announced Sunday night that its 100,000 fishermen members had formed a "security group" to combat Communist agitators.

Hong Kong Gov. Sir David Trench arrived in London today for a two-month stay and said the crown colony's recent strikes and disturbances were "strictly political." However, he said he did not think Peking was "to any great extent" calling the shots in the disturbances.

Trench, who had to postpone his London visit several weeks ago because of the strikes, said the Communist called work stoppages were "pretty much of a flop." The colony's governor said the current situation in Hong Kong was "very encouraging."

Girl Tells Of Attacks In Marin City

An 18-year-old Santa Venetia girl reported to sheriff's deputies that she was raped five to eight times by several youths at three Marin City locations early Saturday.

The girl arrived home shortly before 4 a.m. Saturday in a state of shock, deputies said, and reported the following events:

Shortly after 11 p.m. Friday in the area of the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael her car broke down and several young men in a "white-over-green car offered to help."

One of the youths got in her car, started it and then drove her to Marin City against her wishes, she said.

After they arrived at Donahue Street and Drake Avenue he forced her out of her car into the "green and white car." Then he drove her to the parking area between the Boys' Club and the old gymnasium where he removed her clothes and raped her.

Then he took her in still another car up to the fire trail above Marin City, where he and the driver of the second car raped her.

Then they drove her to the recreation center and took her to the hallway where they were joined by "from four to six youths" from another car, and she was raped "two or three times."

She was hysterical and crying, so they took her back to her car and she drove home.

Deputies said they were continuing their investigation today.

Truck Driver Is Shaken Up

A Novato milk truck driver escaped with minor injuries when his truck careened down Oak Springs Drive in San Anselmo and over an embankment at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

The truck driven by Paul Frederick Lorenz of 3 Villa Maria Avenue, "lost its brakes about a quarter of a mile up Oak Springs," San Anselmo police reported.

The truck struck a parked car owned by W. C. Pugh of 13 Oak Springs Drive and then traveled 396 feet before "jumping the embankment," police said.

TV REVIEW

NET Takes Close Look At World

By RICK DUBROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—National Educational Television took part yesterday in a two-hour global satellite broadcast which the three commercial American networks declined to join. There were no advertisements. The program was live across the board. It was an undeniably historic event. And it was, for the most part, highly satisfactory.

This landmark program which America's commercial broadcasters did not think was worth their time involved the participation of 14 nations which contributed segments fitting the theme of common problems and hopes throughout the world—such as food production, future living accommodations and aspirations in sports and the arts. There were also segments offering a panoramic look at people at work and play around the globe, and pointing up plans for space exploration.

The various sements were beamed to a huge potential audience in 26 countries, including the United States, where NET's broadcast illustrated powerfully the case for an interconnected non-commercial public television system—and why the commercial networks feat it as a possible competitor. Five continents were in on the program, with Antarctica and South America unable to take part because of their lack of ground stations to pick it up.

The withdrawal from the broadcast of Russia and four East European governments because of the Middle East crisis was noted frankly and regretfully by the American anchorman for NET, Paul Niven.

CBS-TV's long-awaited four-part, four-hour series of broadcasts, "The Warren Report," examining major questions raised by critics of the official position on the assassination of President Kennedy, began last night. It will continue today, Tuesday and Wednesday, an hour each day, starting at 10 p.m. EDT. The first hour posed the question "Did Lee Harvey Oswald shoot President Kennedy?" It concluded that he did. Tonight's program considers the question "Was There a Conspiracy?"

Tiburon Wreck Breaks Bone

A San Rafael woman suffered a fractured collarbone yesterday at 3:31 a.m. when the car in which she was riding veered from Tiburon Boulevard to Greenwood Cove Drive and rolled over.

Tiburon sheriff's deputy Richard J. Borba reported the car, driven by Gary Don Myers, 23, of 10 Clark Street, San Rafael, driving west on Tiburon Boulevard east of Cecelia Way, skidded across the westbound lane, jumped the center divider, landed sideways then rolled over the bank, throwing out both Myers and his wife, Maria Elena, 20, onto the grass, before it stopped on the lower road.

A nearboy resident, John Berry Kraft, of 385 Cecilia Way, took Mrs. Myers to Marin General Hospital where she was treated for her injury.

BEST-SELLER WANT-ADS

You see, we ordered this big ad about savings and loans and how their rates go up and how sometimes like this July 1, their rates go down. It was all ready to go when out of the blue came, "Stop it; can't run that ad. It's unfair!"

Well, all we can say now is, we guarantee 5% interest for 5 years on savings certificates (something which just about nobody will do, including savings and loans). And that you can withdraw your money plus interest after any 90 days in the next 5 years. Which is a pretty fair program if you're thinking of switching your account from a savings and loan to a bank.

Leach Roars To State Golf Crown

Talk tabout sweet revenge!

Ray Leach of Novato, who has more golf trophies than you can shake a putter at, added the California State Junior Championship to his glittering showcase yesterday by overwhelming Gary Sanders of Buena Park by — would you believe — a 13 and 11 margin in the scheduled 36-hole challenge match at Pebble Beach.

The 17-year-old Leach, who lost one-up to the same Sanders in their National Junior Championship finals at Whittier last August, struck back with a vengeance. He breezed to a sparkling seven up advantage in Saturday's first 18 holes and then made short work of his 17-year-old Southern California foe yesterday.

The Novato High senior was three under par — with birdies on the third, fourth and seventh holes — when he closed out the match on the seventh green.

"I didn't have to make any long putts," Leach explained afterwards, "because my iron game was good."

The challenge match between the Northern and Southern California junior titlists was sponsored by the California Golf Association and was played just ahead of yesterday's State Amateur finals in which Sacramento redhead Bob Smith defeated Chula Vista's Jim Rheim 7 and 5.

Leach did not rest on his laurels. He was off bright and early this morning for the Alameda Municipal Course where he was to shoot for his third straight East Bay Junior Championship in 36-hole medal play today and tomorrow.

Then on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday the talented Novato youngster will compete for the San Francisco Junior Championship.

Don Hawken, 17, of San Rafael, Leach's friendly and sharp-shooting rival along the junior golf trail, will be competing in both those tournaments.

YOUNGSTER'S BIG DAY: FOUR HOMERS IN ROW

It was a day to remember for young Kevin Brink of Mill Valley.

Playing for the Realtors of the Mill Valley National Little League, Brink slammed four home runs in four trips to the plate, leading his team to a 14-1 truimph over the Merchants Saturday.

One of Brink's mighty pokes was a grand slam. In all, he had 10 runs batted in for the day. And if that wasn't enough, he pitched three innings and came out of the game as the winning hurler.

'Chub's Club' Winning Stardom In Big Leagues

CHUB'S CLUB — Strongest organization in the major leagues these days is known as "Chub's Club" and is composed of players traded away from the San Francisco Giants by Charles "Chub" Feeney, the team's vice-president in charge of wheelin' and dealin'.

Chub is such a nice guy—a genuine sweetheart—that those of us lucky enough to know him wince with embarrassment every time we examine the box scores and see Chub's Clubbers winning national stardom elsewhere.

As Giants these guys were rather disappointing. But the minute Chub traded 'em away they seemed to become supermen. Were they to play for one team instead of being spread out as they are, Chub's Club would win the world championship.

Yesterday was another good example. Ex-Giant Len Gabrielson delivered the single that gave the Dodgers their 2-1 win over the Giants.

Hands, Hundley Leading Cubs' Charge

Stars for those amazing Chicago Cubs, firmly entrenched in third place, are Bill Hands and Randy Hundley. Um-hm. Both former Giants.

Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati yesterday thanks to a home run and two singles by Matty Alou.

It's the same thing every day. The list of Chub's Clubbers is long and impressive.

But please don't mention these things above a whisper. And for goodness sakes, don't show Chub Feeney any box scores or a copy of this column. Like I said, he's such a sweetheart that I hate to embarrass him.

Let's just observe a moment of silence and keep our fingers crossed for the next four days when the Giants play in St. Cepeda. I mean Louis.

Local Angle Is Where You Find It

LOCAL ANGLE: Aha! I found a local angle in professional soccer. Edgar Marin of the Oakland Clippers scored the first goal yesterday in his team's 2-0 victory over Atlanta.

TENNIS TALK—I was sorry to see Tiburon resident John Williams and his brother-in-law, Jack Bowker of Sacramento, lose the doubles finals in yesterday's National Men's 35 Tennis Championships at Mill Valley.

It ruined a Cinderella story. Among the oldest in the field, the Williams-Bowker tandem upset the first and sixth seeded teams before losing in the finals. Bowker and Williams, real estate investors, have been partners for a long time. In fact, back in 1958 they won the first National Men's 35 doubles title in Sacramento by beating Howard Morehouse of San Rafael and Bill Hoogs of Berkeley in the finals. Nine years later they're still going strong.

Woman Beating Men In Fish Derby

LADIES DAY—Don't look now, you guys, but at last report a woman was leading the Southern Marin Kiwanis Club's salmon derby.

On Saturday, June 17, Mildred (Mrs. Bernie) Pratz of 3 Lillian Lane, San Rafael, hooked, fought and boated a whopper that weighed 36 pounds, 4 ounces near the Farallones.

It was only her second time fishing but, like most women, she catches on fast.

First prize is a vacation in Jamaica and Mrs. Pratz has her fingers crossed that ". . . the fish will just stop biting." But, she added with feminine logic, "If someone beats my record then I'll just have to go out again and catch a bigger one."

GIANT KILLER—Willie Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers slides past San Francisco catcher Tom Haller in the ninth inning with the run that beat the Giants 2-1 yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

Giants Open In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The slump-struck San Francisco Giants, losers in nine of their last 13 starts, meet the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals tonight in the opener of a four-game series.

Hardluck Gaylord Perry (5-8) will go for the Giants against St. Louis' Jim Cosman, just up from Tulsa.

San Francisco opened a 14-game road trip over the weekend with a three-game series in Los Angeles and came away with only one win.

The Dodgers tagged the second loss on San Francisco yesterday when former Giant Len Gabrielson hit a pinch-hit single with two outs in the ninth to drive in the tie-breaking run in Los Angeles' 2-1 win.

The run was set up when reliever Frank Linzy issued a walk to Willie Davis, who advanced to second on a ground out.

OFF BALANCE

Gabrielson, hitting in place of Al Ferrara, singled up the middle and the speedy Davis made it home from second when Hal Lanier had to throw off balance to catcher Tom Haller.

The walk to Davis was the ninth given up by San Francisco pitching in the contest.

The Giants opened the scoring in the first on a single, force out and Willie Mays' booming double but the Dodgers tied it in their half of the inning when Jim Lefebvre hit a sacrifice fly with the bases loaded.

Don Drysdale (7-7) was the winner and Linzy (3-5) the loser.

Six Marin Teams Open New League

Marin Cleaners, alias Marin Catholic, was big winner in the new Joe DiMaggio Baseball League's grand opener in San Anselmo yesterday.

Marin Cleaners cleaned out San Anselmo, 13-1, as pitcher Rick Thomas struck out 13, Rick Dinning hit a pair of triples and Stacey Schaffer hit a three-run homer.

In other opening day games, Indian Valley Lumber (Redwood) nicked Presidio, 4-3, as Ken Johnson and Mike Torrey hit homers and the Mill Valley Chiefs edged San Rafael 7-6.

Wednesday's schedule finds Marin Cleaners meeting San Rafael at Marin Catholic; Indian Valley Lumber battling San Anselmo at Tamalpais High School and Presidio meeting the Mill Valley Chiefs at Presidio.

All games will be played at 6 p.m.

Pasarell Upsets Santana

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Unseeded Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico scored one of the biggest upsets in Wimbledon tennis history today by defeating defending titleholder Manuel Santana of Spain 10-8, 6-3, 2-6, 8-6 in the tournament's opening round.

It was the first time ever that a Wimbledon champion had been eliminated in the opening round in defense of his title.

Pasarell, who lives in Los Angeles and attends the University of California, led 10-8, 6-3, 1-2 when rain interrupted play. It was resumed after a 10-minute delay and the break obviously unsettled Pasarell as Santana won the third set 6-2. Santana was top seeded.

Last year, Pasarell as eliminated by Australia's Roy Emerson in the third round.

Emerson easily moved into the latest competition's second round with a 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 victory over Keith Carpenter of Canada.

In other matches, Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex. ousted Ronald Barnes of Brazil 6-2, 6-4, 6-2, fourth-seeded Tony Roche of Australia whipped Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia 4-6, 6-1, 6-2, 8-6, fifth-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa beat Stanley Matthews of Britain 8-6, 6-3, 6-4, and Bob Hewitt, Australia, downed Graydon Garner, also of South Africa, 8-6, 6-4, 6-4.

No Upset This Time For Netters

The giants finally caught up with the giant-killers.

John Williams of Tiburon and Jack Bowker of Sacramento saw their string run out in the doubles finals of the U.S. Lawn Tenins Association Men's 35 Tennis Championships at the Mill Valley Tennis Club yesterday.

They were defeated by second-seeded Ed Kauder of Los Angeles and Hugh Ditzler of Oakland, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 in yesterday's finals.

Williams and Bowker had carved their way into the finals using seeds as stepping stones, with upsets over top-rated Don Gale and Butch Krikorian and sixth-seeded Jack Darah and Joe Woolfson.

Beardall Breaks Own Mark In Novato Distance Race

The Marin Athletic Club runner raced to his third victory in the Novato Ridge Run in four tries, cracking the record he holds on top of it, to lead the Marin A.C. to its fourth team victory in a row.

Beardall raced to victory Saturday in 37.45, bettering his old mark of 38.04 set in 1965. Runnerup Mike Hunter of the Redwood City Striders also bettered the old mark.

The Marin Athletic Club finished with a low of 51 points for the meet, followed by Sacramento A.C. with 66, Solano Track Club with 85, Redwood City Striders with 93 and Alameda A.C. with 101.

A record 137 runners turned out for the race.

Other Marin A.C. entries were Darren Walton, who finished eighth, followed by Mark Reese, 14th, John Noonan, 15th and Ron Kessecker, 27, as well as Lenny Higgens, Mike Bianchalana, Bob Bianchalana, Ray Davis, Don Makela and John Desty.

A Teen-Ager's First Car

Is It A Rebuilt Wreck?

Seventh of a Series

By HENRY GREGOR FELSEN

You have met the right salesman, and he seems to have introduced you to the right car. How can you get to know the car better before you say "I do"?

Very likely, the car you are looking at was bought at a dealer's auction, and although dealers, like private buyers, try to get the most car for their money when they buy, neither you nor the salesman knows very much about the car, and it is up to you to find out.

What do you do?

If you live in the right place now, you have no problem. In a few years, you will have no problem no matter where you live. The answer to every used car buyer's prayer for information is already here.

Some of the major oil companies and some mail order houses have begun the construction of automobile diagnostic centers.

These are not garages, but "clinics" where experts, operating diagnostic equipment that costs between $70,000 and $100,000, can get an exact report on every mechanical function and every strength or weakness of engine and parts, efficiency of operation, condition of brakes, shocks, chassis, and anything and everything else that has to do with the operation and condition of your car.

In about half an hour, and for about $7.50, you can get the most accurate picture of the car that modern science and engineering can provide.

If you live in an area where one of these clinics is functioning, your problem is simple. When you have decided you want a certain car if it checks out okay, all you have to do is invest a few dollars to find out everything you need to know.

With that report in your hand,

Hometown Boy Wins Pikes Peak Climb

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Wes Vanservoort of Colorado Springs won the championship division yesterday in the annual Pikes Peak Auto Races. He drove his Chevrolet up the 14,110-foot mountain in 12:46.3.

Mario Andretti, of Nazareth, Pa., a pre-race favorite, lost all chance when his car blew a front right tire.

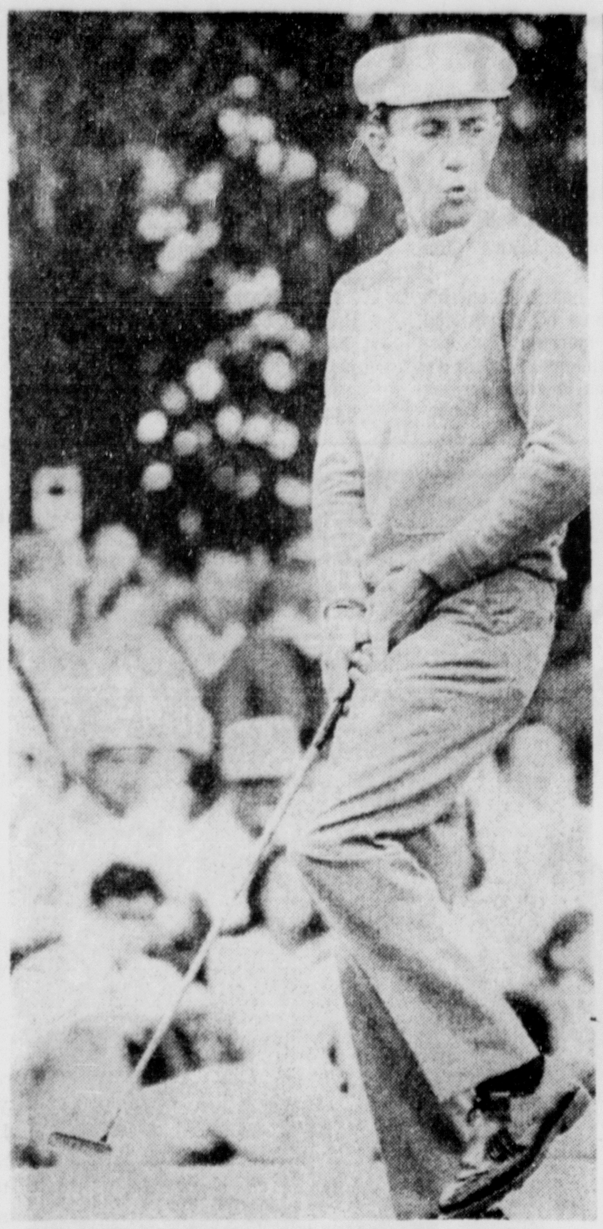
A. J. Foyt Escapes Injuries In Crash

NEW BREMEN, Ohio (AP) — A.J. Foyt, the Indianapolis and Le Mans winner, escaped injury yesterday when his car blew a tire and struck a wall. Al Smith, Dayton, Ohio, won the 30-lap U.S. Auto Club sprint race in a Vivian Buick Special at an average speed of 92.44 miles per hour.



THE PUTTING JIG—Gardner Dickinson does a little dance and groans as he feels a 40-foot putt for a birdie fall four inches short on the 17th green enroute to winning the Cleveland Open. (UPI Telephoto)

Dickinson Snapped Five-Year Drought

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — It was a long five-year drought, but Gardner Dickinson figures the first place money of $20,700 was worth waiting for.

"It was a very satisfying victory," the slightly built, 135-pound Florida pro noted after he breezed home in even pr 70 yesterday to win the Cleveland Open golf championship. He finished nine-under for the 72 holes with a 271.

It was the first four title since 1962 for the steady Dickinson who has become a familiar trademark on golf courses everywhere with his white-billed cap.

"I've played very consistently for a good while and haven't missed very many fairways. I've worked hard. But I can't give enough credit to Tony Penna who has worked tirelessly with me to help my game the last six years."

HOGAN'S LESSONS

Penna is a pro from Palm Beach, Fla. Dickinson, whose best previous finish this year was a tie for third at Phoenix, Ariz., also credited fabled Ben Hogan for some lessons in 1954 when the Florida golfer got out of the Army.

Dickinson, who played the tight 6,611-yard Aurora Country Club course with precision accuracy, wasn't quite as sharp as in earlier rounds when he posted scores of 68, 66 and 67.

He said his best hole was the 192-yard 13th when he dropped in a 25-foot putt for a birdie.

"I though I was in business when I holed that one."

The 39-year-old pro started the final round with a two-stroke advantage and coasted to his four-shot triumph in the $103,500 event as his closest pursuers couldn't make up the ground.

Two Texans, Miller Barber and Homero Blancas, finished tied for second with 275s.

Tommy Aaron, who had the day's best round with a 66, closed in a five-way deadlock for fourth place with Jerry Edwards, Allen Henning, Phil Rodgers and Lou Graham. All had 277s.

YATES, PALMER TIE

A stroke back at 278 were Cobie LeGrange, Wayne Yates and Arnold Palmer. Grouped at 279 were Lionel Hebert, Gene Littler, Bert Weaver and Billy Casper.

Yates, the young Georgian who had consecutive 66s to lead after the first and second rounds, fell to a 74. And Palmer, the tour's leading money-winner, collapsed early with bogeys on the first three holes. Arnie shot a closing 73.

Dickinson, who had missed the cut only twice in 18 tournaments, raised his 1967 earnings to almost $45,000 in official money. His biggest money season came last year when he won more than $53,000.

The pro from Lost Tree Village, Fla., had 14 birdies and 5 bogeys in 72 holes, four of the bogeys coming on the final round.

Marin Golfer Is 'Alternate'

Russell Adams of San Rafael has qualified as an alternate for the 42nd annual National Public Links Golf Championship July 12-15 at Seattle.

Adams put together rounds of 78 and 74 for a 36-hole total 152 over the weekend at San Francisco's Harding Park Course in the local qualifying tournament. Should one of the seven qualifiers withdraw from the national tournament Adams would be one of four alternates considered as a replacement.

Clippers Triumph, Gales Tie

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Their National Professional Soccer League opponents aren't gaining much ground on the Oakland Clippers but then the Clippers aren't making much headway against the cross-bay neighbors, the United Soccer Association's San Francisco Gales.

Oakland continued to pad its huge NPSL Western Division bulge yesterday with a 2-0 victory over Atlanta before a crowd of 3,818 at the Oakland Coliseum. It was the eighth straight victory for the Clippers, who lead second place Los Angeles by 24 points.

Meanwhile, at San Francisco, the Gales battled to a 0-0 USA tie against Washington with 4,657 looking on in Kezar Stadium.

It was the second time this month that Northern California soccer fans have had a choice with Oakland and San Francisco both at home on the same day. And both times, the Gales have outdrawn the Clippers.

On June 4, Oakland drew 3,753 fans, exactly 100 fewer than San Francisco. Sunday, the difference was larger with the Gales attracting 839 more spectators.

On the field, the Clippers enjoyed more success than the Gales though. Oakland struck for both its goals against Atlanta midway through the first half. Edgar Marin hit in the 23rd minute of play and three minutes later, Sele Milosevic scored.

Washington and San Francisco both had scoring opportunities but the defenses prevailed in their scoreless tie. Washington had an apparent goal in the final minute disallowed because of an offside.

TEEN-AGER'S FIRST CAR

How To Detect A 'Highway Hog'

you can return to the dealer and do what bargaining is necessary to get certain ailments cured and what price adjustment is indicated. Or you will know the car is a bad buy at any price.

If you don't live in an area which has a clinic, what can you do?

EXPERT ARTICLES

A great deal has been written on how to check out a car, and there is no point in repeating it here. There are issues of magazines like Hot Rod, Motor Trend, Popular Hot Rodding, Car Life, Road Test, Car and Driver, etc., which contain step-by-step articles, written by experts, on how to check a car for possibly being a rebuilt wreck, a repaint, out of alignment, an oil gulper, weak in the transmission and rear end, a hog on the highway, and so on.

Also, magazines like Consumer's Union, Better Homes and Gardens, Good Housekeeping, and other family and service magazines carry a great deal of good advice about the specifics of car buying.

And you will find more in the magazines slanted for male readers and in semi-techincal hobby publications like Popular Science, Popular Mechanics, and Mechanics Illustrated.

In spite of the fact that most of this written advice is very sound, there is a quick limit on how much good it will do you when faced with a particular car.

And no matter how much you know, there is just so much that the eye and ear can find out. Looking over a car in a lot, you are like a doctor who has to examine a patient without the aid of stethoscope, laboratory findings, or other diagnostic aids.

Sooner or later, as you get close to buying, you will come to the point where you need the help not only of expert mechanics, but also of dignostic equipment which gives the expert needed information.

Perhaps you have a good garage or service station where you can take the car. If not, you will have to ask the dealer to give you a report.

At this point, it pays to pay to have your car examined and the findings written down. Now you have something definite to talk about.

You are past the point of talking about how the car looks or sounds, or the salesman's assertion that it's a "great car." With ignition, carburetion, transmission, and other facts in your hand, you are ready to talk real business.

EXPENSIVE CARS

If you are buying a fairly expensive used car, it is not uncommon for a dealer to make this offer: "You have the car looked over, and we'll fix onything you find now for nothing. Once you've bought the car, we'll fix anything that goes wrong for labor cost and 20 per cent off on parts."

If you are buying a cheaper car, the limit of what the dealer will fix for free comes much sooner.

Again, you may go back to the dealer's own way of doing business when he buys. If he will guarantee the block, transmission, drive train, and rear end, and guarantee that the car is not a rebuilt wreck, your risk is not too great.

Don't expect a new car guarantee, but 30 days is reasonable. After all, the dealer is taking a chance on you, too. He might sell you a good car that your driving will tear apart in less than 30 days.

Thad Spencer Is Favored Over Lincoln

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—It will be winner-take-all when California heavyweights Thad Spencer and Amos Big Train Lincoln collide tonight in a 10-round fight at the Cow Palace.

The winner is a cinch to be a contender for the vacant world heavyweight crown while the loser more than likely will disappear from any sort of international ranking.

Local ringsiders have tabbed Spencer, ranked No. 5 in the division, as a 7 to 5 favorite but he has not fought since October and Lincoln, a two-time winner over Spencer, has looked powerful in training sessions.

The card begins at 8:30.

Rosewall Breezes To Net Victory

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Ken Rosewall gathers momentum as he progresses along this year's professional tennis tour and needed just 51 minutes in the final match for his fourth victory in the past five tournaments.

The Aussie turned back fellow countryman Rod Laver, 6-3, 6-3, yesterday for the $3,000 first prize in the $25,000 Pacific Coast International Cup event.

Andres Gimeno of Spain took third place when he turned back rookie Australian Fred Stolle 8-6, 6-4.

University Of Colorado Lad Rules As NCAA Golf Champ

SHAWNEE ON DELAWARE, Pa. (AP)—Hale Irwin, University of Colorado marketing student, won the 70th annual NCAA golf championship despite a final round seven-over-par 79 Saturday on the 7,025-yard Shawnee Inn golf course.

His 286 total gave him a two-stroke win over a trio deadlocked at 288—Bunky Henry, Georgia Tech; Ross Randall, San Jose State, and Robert Drue Johnson, Arizona State.

GOLF

EAST PROVIDENCE, R.I. — Marty Fleckman, the amateur sensation of the recent U.S. Open, captured the sixth annual Northeast Amateur with a record-tying 54-hole total of 209, two strokes ahead of 1963 winner Gene Francis.

CINCINNATI — Carol Mann shot a three-under-par 69 final round to win the $21,000 Buckeye Savings Ladies Professional tournament by four strokes over Clifford Ann Creed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Veteran Don White of Keokuk, Ia., driving his Dodge Charger at an average 82.873 miles per hour, went ahead for good on the 28th lap to win the Hoosier Classic 100-mile stock car race on the Indiana Fairgrounds' one-mile dirt track.

GREENVILLE, S.C.—Richard Petty, driving a 1967 Plymouth, was in command most of the way as he won a 100-mile NASCAR Grand National stock car race at Greenville-Pickens Speedway.

REMIS, France—Jochen Rindt of Austria, averaging 134 miles per hour in his Brabham-Cosworth-Ford, grabbed the lead in an exciting dash down the long finish stretch and edged Britain's Graham Hill by less than a yard in the Reims Grand Prix auto race for Formula 2 cars.

Novato Legion Baseballers Rip Vallejo Nine

Timmel threw a five-hitter, struck out nine batters and stroked a three-run double in the second inning to lead Novato to a 9-1 victory over Vallejo Post 550 yesterday.

The win gave Novato a 4-1 American Legion league record and a 7-1 overall mark.

Tommy Thomas had a pair of hits for Novato while Tom Corder blasted a 360-foot, two-run homer in the seventh inning.

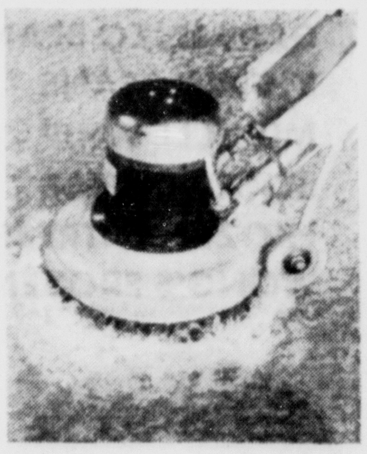
DEEP STEAM Wall to Wall Carpet Cleaning

This unique new process cleans deep and yet treats the finest carpet with loving care . . .

DEEP STEAM removes soil from both the pile of the carpet and the carpet backing. Since no brushes or scrubbing action are used, there is no distortion of the carpet pile. The powerful extraction action of the DEEP STEAM process lifts matted pile to "like new" appearance. The need of frequent professional cleaning is reduced because deeply embedded soil is removed and leaves no residue in the carpet fibers to collect dirt.

OLD

The old equipment with brushes, using liquid detergent or powder, scrubs the soil DEEPER into the fabric . . . and even with the help of a vacuum fails to remove soil or residue. The detergent or powder left in the fabric soon attracts more soil and it is not long before the soil works back to the surface. Soon your carpets appear more soiled than before!



THIS DEEP STEAM PROCESS IS GUARANTEED TO BE COMPLETELY SAFE ON ALL FABRICS UNDER ALL CONDITIONS!

Have your loose rugs and furniture steam cleaned at our plant
